

any remote pilots that will be involved in the flight have all necessary FAA remote pilot authorization, to the extent such authorization is required.

Section 88.31(c) requires that the NNA user must comply with all DFMS Administrator instructions, including those regarding registration process and procedures, requests and other submissions to the DFMS.

Section 88.31(e) requires a UAS ground station using an NNA assignment or proxy software acting on its behalf must be capable of communicating with the assigning DFMS to communicate specified confirmations and status information.

Section 88.33(a) requires that information submitted to a DFMS with registration or assignment requests must be accurate, complete, and made in good faith, and section 88.33(b) provides that parties must keep registration information up to date, and must keep frequency assignment request information up to date until the scheduled time of the operation.

Sections 88.31(d) and 88.35 require that parties seeking assignments in the National Radio Quiet Zone (NRQZ) must first notify the NRQZ Administrator, unless an exception applies, and otherwise follow certain submission requirements in filing their assignment requests.

Section 88.135(p) requires a DFMS to retain information on exclusion zones sufficient to protect Microwave Landing Systems in the 5030–5091 MHz band.

Section 88.135(q) requires a DFMS to maintain all records for at least 60 months.

Section 88.135(x) requires a DFMS to immediately notify the National Science Foundation when a request for frequency assignment is approved that will support operation of a UAS within 25 miles of one of sixteen specified radio astronomy sites.

Section 88.137(d) requires a DFMS administrator to securely transfer all information in the DFMS to another approved entity in the event it does not continue as the DFMS administrator at the end of its term.

Protective DFMS administrators must apply to, and be approved by, the Commission prior to commencing operation of the DFMS.

Sections 88.35(b) and 88.141(b) establish an Interim Access Mechanism, under which NNA users may access the 5040–5060 MHz band prior to the commencement of operation by the first DFMS administrator. As part of this mechanism, NNA users seeking to transmit in the band must first obtain concurrence from the Federal Aviation Administration for the requested use, and then submit to the FCC an online registration form making certain certifications. When a request for concurrence is submitted to the FAA for operations within the NRQZ, the request must state the date that notification to the NRQZ Administrator was made or provide an approval from the NRQZ Administrator.

These information collection requirements are designed to enable the implementation of the rules for NNA operations, including the establishment and operation of the automated process of frequency assignments through DFMSs. These direct frequency assignments will support highly reliable control links, and thereby help to safely integrate UAS flights into the National Airspace System (NAS) and promote the development of a diverse range of beneficial public and private uses of UAS technology. Without the required collections, the Commission would not be able to make this spectrum available for dynamic, short term assignments to support this important purpose.
