

7. To another Federal agency or Federal entity, when CFTC's OIG determines that information from this system of records is reasonably necessary to assist the recipient agency or entity in (1) responding to a suspected or confirmed breach or (2) preventing, minimizing, or remedying the risk of harm to individuals, the recipient agency or entity (including its information systems, programs, and operations), the Federal Government, or national security, resulting from a suspected or confirmed breach.

8. A record from the system of records may be disclosed to a grand jury agent pursuant either to a Federal or State grand jury subpoena, or to a prosecution request that such record be released for the purpose of its introduction to a grand jury, provided that the grand jury channels its request through the cognizant U.S. Attorney, that the U.S. Attorney has been delegated the authority to make such requests by the Attorney General, and that the U.S. Attorney actually signs the letter specifying both the information sought and the law enforcement purpose served. In the case of a State grand jury subpoena, the State equivalent of the U.S. Attorney and Attorney General shall be substituted.

9. A record from the system of records may be disclosed in response to a subpoena issued by a Federal agency having the power to subpoena records of other Federal agencies, provided the subpoena is channeled through the head of the issuing agency, if the OIG determines that: (a) The head of the issuing agency signed the subpoena; (b) the subpoena specifies the information sought and the law enforcement purpose served; (c) the records are both relevant and necessary to the proceeding; and (d) such release is compatible with the purpose for which the records were collected.

10. A record from the system of records may be disclosed to the Department of Justice for the purpose of obtaining its advice on an OIG audit, or other related inquiry, including Freedom of Information or Privacy Act matters relating to information in this record system.

officials of the Department of Justice and the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

POLICIES AND PRACTICES FOR STORAGE OF RECORDS:

Records are stored electronically or on paper in secure facilities.

POLICIES AND PRACTICES FOR RETRIEVAL OF RECORDS:

Information in the system generally can be retrieved by OIG personnel in headquarters and working remotely. Information is generally retrieved by audit assignment number and can be retrieved by using alphanumeric queries and personal identifiers.

POLICIES AND PRACTICES FOR RETENTION AND DISPOSAL OF RECORDS:

The records are retained and disposed of in compliance with CFTC record disposition authorities, approved by the National Archives and Records Administration. The OIG Audit Files are destroyed 10 years after the audit is completed, unless the audit is deemed of significance sufficient to justify permanent retention. The OIG staff training and related records are destroyed six years after cut off.

ADMINISTRATIVE, TECHNICAL, AND PHYSICAL SAFEGUARDS:

Administrative safeguards include restricting access to the OIG work area, and restricting relevant audit tasks to only those competent or qualified to perform the work. Technical security measures within CFTC include restrictions on computer access to authorized individuals who have a legitimate need to know the information; use of encryption for certain data types and transfers; firewalls and intrusion detection applications (set and maintained by the CFTC); and regular review of security procedures and best practices to enhance security (performed by the CFTC). SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The CFTC's advisory committees were created to provide input and make recommendations to the Commission on a variety of regulatory and market issues that affect the integrity and competitiveness of the United States (U.S.) derivatives markets. The committees facilitate communication between the Commission and U.S. derivatives markets, trading firms, market participants, and end users. The CFTC currently has five advisory committees. The Agricultural Advisory Committee, Global Markets Advisory Committee, Market Risk Advisory Committee, and the Technology Advisory Committee are discretionary committees under the Federal Advisory Committee Act (FACA), 5 U.S.C. 1001 et seq. The Energy and Environmental Markets Advisory Committee was established by the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act, Public Law 111-203, and subsequently codified in the Commodity Exchange Act, 7 U.S.C. 1 et seq., at 7 U.S.C. 2(a)(15), and is not subject to the FACA. The Commission also establishes and maintains subcommittees that report to advisory committees as needed. Advisory committee and subcommittee members are generally representatives, but depending on the issues to be addressed, the Commission will appoint special government employees (SGEs) and officials from other Federal agencies from time to time. The CFTC identifies candidates for advisory committee and subcommittee membership through a variety of methods, including public requests for nominations; recommendations from existing advisory committee members; consultations with knowledgeable persons outside the CFTC (industry, consumer groups, other state or Federal government agencies, academia, etc.); requests to be represented received from individuals and organizations; and Commissioners' and CFTC staff's professional knowledge of those experienced in the derivatives and other underlying commodities markets. The CFTC collects and maintains information on CFTC advisory committee and subcommittee applicants and members, and those who make recommendations for committee or subcommittee memberships, or otherwise interact with the CFTC regarding its advisory committees and subcommittees. The records are used for the administration of the CFTC's advisory committees and subcommittees.
