

insulating fittings for electrical machines (8547.90); parachutes and rotachutes (8804.00); corrective or protective spectacles and goggles (9004.90); lasers (9013.20); compasses (9014.10); aeronautical navigation instruments and appliances (9014.20); surveying instruments and appliances (9015.80); calculating instruments (9017.20); breathing appliances and gas masks (9020.00); thermometers and pyrometers (9025.19); hydrometers (9025.80); speedometers, tachometers and stroboscopes (9029.20); instruments for checking voltage and current (9030.39); instruments to measure and check instruments and their parts (9031.80, 9031.90); thermostats (9032.10); hydraulic and pneumatic instruments (9032.81); automatic voltage and voltage-current regulators (9032.89); electric lamps and lighting fittings (9405.20, 9405.40); illuminated signs and name plates (9405.60); plastic parts for lamps and lighting fixtures (9405.92, 9405.99); and, ball-point pens (9608.10). The duty rates on the imported components range from duty-free to 15 percent.

This application requests authority for HBC to conduct the manufacturing activity under FTZ procedures, which would exempt the company from customs duty payments on the imported components used in export production. Approximately 50 percent of production is exported. On domestic sales, the company could choose the lower duty rate (duty-free) that applies to the finished product for the imported components used in manufacturing. HBC may also realize savings related to direct delivery and weekly customs entry procedures. The company will also realize savings on the elimination of duties on materials that become scrap/waste during manufacturing. Additionally, customs duties could possibly be deferred or reduced on foreign status production equipment. The application indicates that the FTZ-related savings would improve the plant's international competitiveness.

In accordance with the Board's regulations, Christopher Kemp of the FTZ staff is designated examiner to investigate the application and report to the Board.

Public comment is invited from interested parties. Submissions (original and 3 copies) shall be addressed to the Board's Executive Secretary at the address listed below.
