Analysis of Proposed Consent Order To Aid Public Comment

The Federal Trade Commission has accepted, subject to final approval, an agreement containing a consent order from W.F.S. Enterprises, Inc., a corporation, doing business as The Cash Nursery, and Rabb Sabin and Arthur Smith, individually and as officers of the corporation (together, "respondents").

The proposed consent order has been placed on the public record for thirty (30) days for receipt of comments by interested persons. Comments received during this period will become part of the public record. After thirty (30) days, the commission will again review the agreement and the comments received, and will decide whether it should withdraw from the agreement or make final the agreement's proposed order.

Respondents sell a training program on the Internet for the daily buying and selling of stock and commodity options (also known as "day trading"). They advertise on their Internet Web site, www.thecashnursery.com. This matter concerns allegedly deceptive representations of the earnings and profit potential, as well as the extent or risk involved in using respondents' trading methods.

The Commission's proposed complaint alleges that respondents made unsubstantiated claims that users of respondents' options trading program could reasonably expect to earn large profits, as much as seven figures annually (i.e., more than $1,000,000); that users could reasonably expect consistent investment returns of 100% to 500% on their trades; and that testimonials appearing in the advertisements for respondents' options trading program reflected the typical or ordinary experience of members of the public who use the program. In addition, the complaint alleges that respondents misrepresented that users of their options trading program could reasonably expect to trade with little financial risk.

The proposed consent order contains provisions designed to prevent respondents from engaging in similar acts and practices in the future.

Part I of the proposed order requires respondents to have a reasonable basis substantiating any representation that users of respondents' currency trading program can reasonably expect to earn
