Report No.: FCC Reports 495-A and FCC 495-B.

Type of Review: Extension of a currently approved collection.

Respondents: Business or other for-profit.

Number of Respondents: 300.
Estimated Time Per Response: 40 hours.

Frequency of Response: Annual reporting requirement.

Total Annual Burden: 12,000 hours.

Needs and Uses: The Forecast of Investment Usage Report and the Actual Use of Investment Report implement the FCC's Joint Cost Order, which requires that certain telephone plant investments used for both regulated and nonregulated purposes be allocated on the basis of forecasted regulated and nonregulated use. The detection and correction of forecasting errors requires reporting of both forecasted and actual investment usage data. Sixty incumbent local exchange carriers (ILECs) file the annual reports based on study areas. If the data were collected less frequently, the Commission would not have the data in a timely manner to perform its functions. These annual reports are designed to obtain the data that are needed to evaluate ILECs proposed annual tariffs and to ensure against cross subsidization of nonregulated operations by related operations. These regulated activities are in the interests of, and for the benefit of, the ratepayers. These data are also a part of the data necessary to support the Commission's audit and other oversight functions.

DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH AND HUMAN SERVICES

Office of the Secretary

Office of Public Health and Science; Availability of Funds and Requests for Applications for Cooperative Agreements for the National Community Centers of Excellence (CCOE) in Women's Health Program

AGENCY: Office of the Secretary, Office of Public Health and Science, Office on Women's Health.

Purpose

To provide recognition and funding to community-based programs that unite promising approaches in women's health across five components: (1) Comprehensive health service delivery, (2) training for lay and professional health providers, (3) community-based research, (4) public education/outreach, and (5) leadership development for women as health care consumers and providers. The focus of the CCOE initiative is not to develop new programs or to fund direct service or research, but rather to integrate, coordinate, and strengthen linkages between activities that are already underway in the community in order to reduce fragmentation in women's health services and activities. Another major purpose of the CCOE program is to foster the replication of promising models and strategies that coordinate and integrate women's health activities at the community level and improve health outcomes for underserved women.

The CCOE program addresses women's health from a women-centered, holistic, multi-disciplinary, and community-based perspective (see definitions below). Women's health issues are defined in the context of women's lives, including their multiple social roles and the importance of relationships with other people to their lives. This definition of women's health encompasses both mental and physical health (including oral health) and spans the life course.

The CCOE program will operate under cooperative agreements, to allow a collaborative relationship between the CCOE and the federal agencies. The funding agencies of the Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) include the Office on Women's Health; the Office of Minority and Women's Health in the Bureau of Primary Health Care of the Health Resources and Services Administration; and the Office of Minority Health. These agencies will provide technical assistance and oversight as necessary for the implementation, conduct, and assessment of program activities.

HHS is committed to achieving the health promotion and disease prevention objectives of Healthy People 2010. Emphasis will be placed on aligning activities and programs with the Healthy People 2010: Goal 2—eliminating health disparities due to age, gender, race/ethnicity, education, income, disability, living in rural localities, or sexual orientation. More information on the Healthy People 2010 objectives may be found on the Health People 2010 web site: <http://www.health.gov/healthypeople>. Copies of the Healthy People 2010: Conference Edition Volumes I and II can be purchased by calling (301) 468-5960 (cost $22.00). The reference document entitled "Healthy People 2010: Understanding and Improving Health" is available for $9.00. Another reference is the Healthy People 2000 Review—1998-99. One free copy may be obtained from the National Center for Health Statistics (NCHS), 6525 Belcrest Road, Room 1064, Hyattsville, MD 20782 or telephone (301) 436-8500 (*DHHS Publication No., (PHS) 99-1256). This document may also be downloaded from the NCHS web site: <http://www.cdc.gov/nchs>.

Program Goals

1. Reducing the fragmentation of services and access barriers that women encounter by providing a framework for the coordination and integration of comprehensive health services with research, training, and leadership
