Background

The EPA is designated as the lead Agency for the security of the nation's drinking water and wastewater sectors. The National Drinking Water Advisory Council was established under the Safe Drinking Water Act, as amended (42 U.S.C. 300f et seq.) to provide practical and independent advice, consultation, and recommendations to the Agency on the activities, functions, and policies related to the implementation of the Safe Drinking Water Act. On February 10, 2004, NDWAC voted and approved to form the WSWG to address best security practices for drinking water and wastewater facilities (i.e., the water sector) in becoming more secure against malevolent threats. The Agency is projecting three to five face-to-face meetings over the course of the next year in addition to conference calls and/or video conferencing on an as needed basis. After the WSWG completes the charge, a report out in terms of recommendations will be made to the full NDWAC. The full NDWAC will, in turn, make appropriate recommendations to the EPA.

Working Group Charge

The charge for the Water Security Working Group is to provide recommendations to the full NDWAC that: (1) Identify, compile, and characterize best security practices and policies for drinking water and wastewater utilities and provide an approach for considering and adopting these practices and policies at a utility level; (2) consider mechanisms to provide recognition and incentives that facilitate a broad and receptive response among the water sector to implement these best security practices and policies and make recommendations as appropriate; (3) consider mechanisms to measure the extent of implementation of these best security practices and policies, identify the impediments of their implementation, and make recommendations as appropriate.

Nanci Gelb,

Acting Director, Office of Ground Water and Drinking Water.
