

carcasses must be towed or otherwise transported to a site offshore where, based on available information, which may include local or traditional knowledge, currents and winds are not expected to return the carcass to shore and the carcass is not expected to pose a hazard to navigation.

C. Requirements for Any Member of the Makah Indian Tribe Engaged in Subsistence Uses

Notwithstanding Section A, any member of the Makah Indian Tribe who already may take a marine mammal under the Endangered Species Act and the Marine Mammal Protection Act is hereby granted a general permit to transport for the purpose of disposal and dispose of marine mammal carcasses in ocean waters subject to the following conditions:

1. The permittee shall consult with and obtain written concurrence (via email or letter) from the EPA Region 10 Office on ocean disposal site selection. A disposal site must be at a location three miles seaward of the mean lower low water line (ordinary low water mark) along the coast or “closing lines” across river mouths and openings of bays as demarcated on nautical charts. Disposal sites in the ocean waters of Puget Sound are not subject to the distance-from-shore restrictions, however permittees would need to consult with and obtain concurrence from EPA Region 10 on selection of the site. The permittee may obtain concurrence via telephone from the EPA Region 10 Office provided that the permittee subsequently obtains written concurrence (via email or letter). Points of contact at the EPA are available at <https://www.epa.gov/marine-protection-permitting/ocean-disposal-marine-mammal-and-sea-turtle-carcasses>.

2. If a determination is made that the carcass must be sunk, rather than released at the disposal site, the transportation and disposal of materials necessary to ensure the sinking of the carcass are also authorized for ocean dumping under this general permit. When materials are to be used to sink the carcass, the permittee must first consult with and obtain written concurrence (via email or letter) from the EPA Region 10 Office on the selection of materials. Any materials described in 40 CFR 227.5 (prohibited materials) or 40 CFR 227.6 (constituents prohibited as other than trace amounts) shall not be used. The transportation and dumping of any materials other than the materials necessary to ensure the sinking of the carcass are not authorized under this general permit and constitute a violation of the MPRSA. The permittee may obtain concurrence via telephone from the EPA Region 10 Office provided that the permittee subsequently obtains written concurrence (via email or letter).

3. The permittee shall submit a report on the ocean disposal activities authorized by this general permit to the EPA Region 10 Office within 30 days after carcass disposal. This report shall include:

- a. A description of the carcass(es) disposed (e.g., species, approximate length, general condition, floating or not);
- b. The date and time of the disposal, the latitude and longitude of the ocean disposal site, and the geodetic datum associated with the coordinates of the disposal site. Latitude and longitude of the disposal site shall be reported at the highest degree of accuracy available on board the vessel that transported the carcass (e.g., onboard geographic position system technology);
- c. The name, title, affiliation, and contact information of the person in charge of the disposal operation and the person in charge of the vessel or vehicle that transported the carcass (if different than the person in charge of the disposal); and
- d. A statement of need and rationale for selecting ocean disposal rather than other disposal options.

4. The permittee shall immediately notify the EPA of any violation of any condition of this general permit.

5. Additional permit conditions as required by the Port Gamble S’Klallam Tribe’s Clean Water Act Section 401 certification for transportation and disposal of marine mammal and sea turtle carcasses waters within the boundaries of the Port Gamble S’Klallam Reservation and trust lands:

- a. Entities covered under this general permit shall use best management practices for sediment and turbidity control.
- b. No discharge covered under the general permit shall cause exceedances of port Gamble S’Klallam Surface Water Quality Standards narrative or number criteria.
- c. No carcasses shall be disposed of near shellfish beds used by Tribal fishers.
- d. No activities under this general permit may negatively impact Tribal resources.
- e. The Natural Resources Department shall be notified within 24 hours of any accidents, equipment failures, or unexpected impacts resulting from activities associated with this general permit.

Proposal Under OMB Delegated Authority To Extend for Three Years, Without Revision, the Following Information Collection

Collection Title: Intermittent Survey of Businesses.

Collection Identifier: FR 1374.

OMB Control Number: 7100–0302.

General description of collection: The FR 1374 survey data are used to gather information to enable the Federal Reserve System to carry out its policy and operational responsibilities. Under the guidance of the Board, Reserve Banks survey business contacts as economic developments warrant. Usually, these voluntary surveys are conducted using an online survey tool, such as Qualtrics, to collect responses by purchasing managers, economists, or other knowledgeable individuals at selected, relevant businesses and occasionally state and local governments. Occasionally, the survey will be conducted via telephone or email as needed. The frequency and content of the questions, as well as the entities contacted, vary depending on developments in the economy. These surveys are conducted to provide Board members and Reserve Bank presidents real-time insights into economic conditions. The Board tailors these survey questions to match current concerns and interests, but they are not meant to supplant the more rigorous, existing economic reporting. The Board collects aggregate responses from the Reserve Banks and then distributes the information to Board members and Reserve Bank presidents.

Frequency: Annual, but it may be conducted up to three times a year depending on developments in the economy.

Respondents: Businesses, and as warranted by economic conditions, state and local governments.
