

included, e.g., information pertaining to the date, time, and content of the program, the name of the station or program that is the subject of the complaint. FCC Form 475B will include fields that will ask for the complainant's contact information, including name, address, e-mail address, and telephone number. Form 475B will also include a section that asks for information to help identify the station that aired the alleged indecent, profane, and/or indecent material, including the network's name, name of the station, name of the particular program including host or personality/DJ, time of the program, the time zone, the date of the program and the community where the material was aired. The last section on Form 475B asks the complainant to describe the incident and to include as much detail as possible about specific words, languages, and images, to help the Commission determine whether the program was, in fact, obscene, profane, or indecent. The data may ultimately become the foundation for enforcement actions and/or rulemaking proceedings, as appropriate. The information will strengthen the effectiveness of the Commission's rules in deterring obscene, profane, and indecent content and programming.

Federal Communications Commission.
