Abstract: The collection of information via the DEA–315c form is necessary to determine whether DEA employees are medically cleared to safely participate in physical fitness activities under the Voluntary Wellness Program (VWP). This requirement is both a matter of workplace safety and an essential component of the agency's broader health and wellness initiatives.

Pursuant to DEA Personnel Manual 2792, employees must submit a health assessment completed by a licensed medical professional prior to engaging in VWP activities. This process ensures that participation is medically appropriate based on the individual's current health status and minimizes the risk of injury or exacerbation of existing conditions.

The requirement to collect this information is further supported by administrative directives that promote employee well-being and support the safe implementation of agency-sponsored wellness programs. A copy of the relevant section of DEA Personnel Manual 2792 is attached in accordance with the request.

II. Discussion

As directed in SRM-SECY-11-0089, "Options for Proceeding with Future Level 3 Probabilistic Risk Assessment (PRA) Activities," the staff is conducting a full-scope multi-unit site Level 3 PRA (Level 3 PRA project) that addresses all internal and external hazards; all plant operating modes; and all reactor units, spent fuel pools (SFPs), and dry cask storage. The reference site for this study contains 2 four-loop Westinghouse pressurized water reactors with large dry containment. The objectives of the Level 3 PRA project are to (1) develop a Level 3 PRA, generally based on current state-of-practice methods, tools, and data, that (a) reflects technical advances since the last NRC-sponsored Level 3 PRAs (NUREG-1150), which were completed over 30 years ago, and (b) addresses scope considerations that were not previously considered (e.g., low-power and shutdown risk, multi-unit risk, other radiological sources); (2) extract new insights to enhance regulatory decision making and to help focus limited NRC resources on issues most directly related to the agency's mission to protect public health and safety; (3) enhance PRA staff capability and expertise and improve documentation practices to make PRA information more accessible, retrievable, and understandable; and (4) demonstrate technical feasibility and evaluate the realistic cost of developing new Level 3 PRAs.

The work performed under this project is being documented as a multi-volume report. The current Level 3 PRA project report (Volume 8) describes the analyses and results for the integrated site risk (ISR) task. The Level 3 PRA project ISR task is a site-specific analysis that consists of the following high-level steps: sitewide dependency assessment; multi-unit (MU) Level 1, Level 2, and Level 3 PRA; and ISR analysis. Multi-unit core damage frequencies (MUCDFs) were developed for all identified multi-unit initiating events (MUIEs). The total MUCDF was approximately 10 percent of the total single-unit core damage frequency, with seismic events being the largest
