

authorize the issuance of leases, permits, and easements for the use, occupancy, or development of public lands administered by the BLM. Respondents may be individuals, large or small private entities, or State and local governments. They may use Form 2910-1 to apply for leases, permits, or easements, and the BLM uses the information collected on Form 2920-1 to determine whether or not to grant the applications.

Various land uses may be authorized under FLPMA Section 302 and 43 CFR part 2920. Examples may include commercial filming, advertising displays, commercial or noncommercial croplands, apiaries, livestock holding or feeding areas not related to grazing permits and leases, harvesting of native or introduced species, temporary or permanent facilities for commercial purposes (other than mining claims), ski resorts, construction equipment storage sites, assembly yards, oil rig stacking sites, mining claim occupancy if the residential structures are not incidental to the mining operation, and water pipelines and well pumps related to irrigation and non-irrigation facilities.

Frequency of Collection: On occasion.
Estimated Number and Description of Respondents: 407 responses annually: 66 from individuals, 45 from State and local governments, 286 typical responses from the private sector, and 10 complex responses from the private sector.

Estimated Reporting and Recordkeeping "Hour" Burden: The estimated annual reporting burden for this collection is 1,597 hours: 66 hours for individuals, 45 hours for State and local governments, 286 hours for typical responses from the private sector, and 1,200 hours for complex responses from the private sector.

The burdens for complex responses from the private sector reflect the uses sought in those applications, which may involve substantial construction, development, or land improvements. Typical responses from the private sector, as well as responses from individuals and State and local governments, seek authorization for uses involving few or no land improvements, construction, investment, or alteration of public lands.
