Project: 2023–2026 Advancing Wellness and Resilience in Education and Trauma Informed Services in Schools Cross-Site Evaluation—New Collection

The Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA) Center for Mental Health Services (CMHS) is requesting clearance for data collection associated with a national cross-site evaluation of process, outcomes, and impact for the Advancing Wellness and Resilience in Education (hereinafter referred to as Project AWARE) and Trauma-Informed Services in Schools (TISS) programs.

The purpose of the Project AWARE–TISS Cross-Site Evaluation is to better understand how each program is implemented, the extent to which they facilitate collaboration between education agencies and mental health systems, and how each program contributes to access and referral to mental health services and improved outcomes for youth.

The AWARE–TISS Cross-Site Evaluation incorporates four evaluation components to provide a robust understanding of the implementation (process), outcomes, and associated impacts of the AWARE and TISS Programs and includes program-specific components to ensure programmatic differences and commonalities are understood. With this integrated evaluation design, SAMHSA maintains the ability to evaluate and report on each program separately, while additionally benefiting from the ability to understand the overarching impact of both programs collectively.

Approval is being requested for data collection associated with a Process Evaluation and an Outcome Evaluation. Several program specific sub-studies and cross-program impact analyses will also be conducted to assess implementation and outcomes overall as well as those outcomes specific to high-need subpopulations and under-resourced communities. A behavioral health equity and cultural equity lens will be applied to each area of evaluation to ensure a culturally specific understanding of intervention implementation, outcomes, and impacts.

The Process Evaluation will contain two studies (Implementation and Sustainability Study and Systems Change Study) that examine strategies common to both programs related to program implementation facilitators and barriers, workforce development, and grantees' plans to sustain critical program components beyond their grant period. This assessment of common elements will provide a means to compare the implementation strategies that are successful across both AWARE and TISS grantees and identify successes and challenges in changing systems, policies, service provision, and school climate; increasing behavioral health equity in access and service delivery; and increasing social and emotional development and well-being in school-aged children and youth. The Process Evaluation will also address implementation of program-specific components.

For AWARE, the evaluation will document how the grantees implement the three-tiered public health model in schools and the referral pathways to increase access to mental health promotion, prevention, and intervention. The evaluation will assess the grantee collaborative efforts and grantee activities intended to increase workforce capacity to identify the signs and symptoms of mental illness and ability to refer to appropriate services promptly.

For TISS, the Process Evaluation will focus on examining what innovative strategies the grantees use to increase access to trauma informed services for school-aged youth and how the collaborative efforts of grantees and their partners develop/improve a school-based system for identification, referral, early intervention, treatment, and supportive services. Additionally, the Process Evaluation will assess the implementation of training to improve school capacity to address trauma support needs and engagement of families and communities to increase awareness of the effects of trauma on children and youth.

The Outcome Evaluation will include two studies that examine important facets of the AWARE and TISS programs: (1) identification and referral infrastructure (Identification and Referral Study); and (2) youth resiliency and outcomes (Youth Resiliency and Outcomes Study). Both studies will provide critical information about the effectiveness of the AWARE and TISS programs in establishing and enhancing school-based mental health supports for students.

Program specific sub-studies, inclusive of two TISS case studies and an AWARE Suicide Awareness and Prevention Sub-Study, will be conducted to provide more extensive contextual and implementation information related to the AWARE and TISS programs.

Finally, in addition to assessing the process and outcomes of each of the AWARE and TISS programs, we will
