

adjusted to a reference temperature. (See also Item 232 under the L&R Committee which is presented below.)

Item 336—Water Meters: The S&T Committee has recommended adoption of Item 336–1, which includes proposed amendments to specifications related to the design of water meters and will accept comments on other proposals under this section that address meter repeatability, test procedures, and drafts (i.e., the volumes used in testing and number of measurements made during an examination of a meter).

The Laws and Regulations Committee

The following items are proposals to amend NIST Handbook 130:

Method of Sale of Commodities Regulation

Item 232—Automatic Temperature Compensation (ATC)

The L&R Committee will offer two ATC proposals for adoption. Both proposals require consumers to be notified that the fuel quantity is being temperature compensated so they can make value comparisons between sellers, and it will impose other controls on the use of ATC by sellers.

Item 232–1 would allow the voluntary use of automatic temperature compensation in the sales of engine fuels at retail and other levels of trade beginning January 1, 2010, but will require all fuels to be sold, offered, or exposed for sale on a temperature compensated basis by January 1, 2020.

Item 232–2 would allow sellers to use automatic temperature compensation in sales of engine fuels at retail and other levels of trade on a voluntary basis beginning January 1, 2010, but does not include a requirement that all fuels be sold, offered, or exposed for sale on a temperature compensated basis by any deadline.

Note: If Item 232–1 is adopted by the NCWM Item 232–2 will be withdrawn. However, if Item 232–1 is not adopted by the NCWM, the committee will present Item 232–2 to the NCWM for consideration.

Item 232–3—Wood Flavoring Chips: The L&R Committee is recommending adoption of an amendment to the current method of sale regulation on flavoring chips by adding guidance on the appropriate units of measure to be used on small packages.

Item 270–4—Method of Sale and Engine Fuel Quality Requirements for Hydrogen: The L&R Committee will accept comments on a proposal to establish a uniform method of sale and quality standards for hydrogen when it is offered for sale at the retail level as a vehicle fuel.

The following item is a proposal to amend NIST Handbook 133:

*Item 260–1—*The L&R Committee will consider several revisions to NIST Handbook 133 “Checking the Net Contents of Packaged Goods” to provide guidance for making allowances for moisture loss from packaged goods and to notify inspectors not to use the wet tare test procedures when verifying the net quantity of contents of packages of meat and poultry that bear a seal of inspection from the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) Food Safety and Inspection Service. The provision regarding wet tare is needed because USDA adopted, except for the wet tare procedure and other handbook sections not relevant to meat and poultry products, the 4th Edition of the Handbook 133 in September 2008. Other amendments have been proposed that will correct errors and omissions that have been identified since NIST Handbook 133 was last published in 2005.
