

Automation Issues

Several commenters raised concerns with the current FR Y-10 online system used to submit the data electronically. The Federal Reserve has arranged a meeting with the commenters to further understand their concerns and will work with the commenters to resolve the issues.

FR Y-6 Comments

A couple of substantive comments were received regarding the proposal to add a requirement for institutions to verify a list of domestic branches. The Federal Reserve is continuing to evaluate these comments and will address them in a separate Federal Register notice in 2007. This requirement will not be implemented effective December 31, 2006, as originally proposed.

FR Y-10S Comments

A commenter requested clarifications to the instructions of Schedule A of the FR Y-10S. Data collected on this schedule currently are used to ensure compliance with the Sarbanes-Oxley Act. The commenter asked whether a report is necessary when (1) a reporter's subsidiary has been dissolved or sold since December 31, 2005, or (2) there has been no change to the information collected on Schedule A since December 31, 2005. The Federal Reserve will clarify the instructions to indicate that the Cover Page and Schedule A of the FR Y-10S reporting form do not need to be filed in either situation.

FR Y-10E Comments

One trade association expressed concern about the FR Y-10E free-form supplement that would be used to collect additional structural information deemed to be critical and needed in an expedited manner. This commenter asked the Federal Reserve to reconsider creating the supplement or to clearly circumscribe the situations under which it would be used. This supplement would only be used to meet new legislative requirements, answer Congressional inquiries, or respond to critical market events that could not be addressed in a timely manner through the reports clearance process. Subsequent to the implementation of this supplement, if the data were needed on a permanent basis, the Federal Reserve would complete the entire clearance process, including a request for public comment.

Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, December 22, 2006.
