quality. They further note that market discipline will be reduced, rather than enhanced, by the release of information that is highly susceptible to misinterpretation to the extent that it could cause an unjustifiable loss of funding to the industry. However, banking supervisors have consistently found information on loans and leases past due 30 through 89 days to be helpful in identifying financial institutions with emerging asset quality problems. Therefore, the agencies believe that such information is a useful indicator of general asset quality and will not represent misleading information to the public.

Currently the agencies publicly disclose information reported by insured commercial banks, FDICsupervised savings banks, and bank holding companies on loans and leases that are past due 90 days or more and still accruing, in nonaccrual status, or restructured and in compliance with modified terms. The agencies will publicly disclose reported information on loans and leases that are past due 30 through 89 days and still accruing for these institutions effective as of June 30, 2001. However, for periods prior to June 30, 2001, such past due data will not be publicly disclosed on an individual institution basis. Disclosing the information reported on Schedule N of the FFIEC 002 will also provide for a consistent reporting treatment with other U.S. banking institutions.

Request for Comment

Comments submitted in response to this Notice will be shared among the agencies and will be summarized or included in the Board's request for OMB approval. All comments will become a matter of public record. Written comments should address the accuracy of the burden estimates and ways to minimize burden as well as other relevant aspects of the information collection requests. Comments are invited on:

- (a) Whether the proposed collection of information is necessary for the proper performance of the agencies' functions, including whether the information has practical utility;
- (b) The accuracy of the agencies' estimate of the burden of the information collection, including the validity of the methodology and assumptions used;
- (c) Ways to enhance the quality, utility, and clarity of the information to be collected;
- (d) Ways to minimize the burden of the information collection on respondents, including through the use of automated collection techniques or

- other forms of information technology; and
- (e) Estimates of capital or start up costs and costs of operation, maintenance, and purchase of services to provide information.
