[Release No. 34-103493; File No. SR-OCC-2025-007]

Self-Regulatory Organizations; The Options Clearing Corporation; Notice of Designation of Longer Period for Commission Action on Proposed Rule Change, Concerning Updates to the Options Clearing Corporation's Portfolio Revaluation Process for Purposes of Determining Intraday Margin Calls In Order to Better Manage OCC's Intraday Risk Exposure to Its Clearing Members

July 17, 2025.

On May 15, 2025, the Options Clearing Corporation ("OCC") filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission ("Commission") the proposed rule change SR-OCC-2025-007, pursuant to Section 19(b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 ("Exchange Act")¹ and Rule 19b-4² thereunder, to make updates to its portfolio revaluation process for purposes of determining intraday margin calls.³ The proposed rule change was published for public comment in the Federal Register on June 2, 2025.⁴ The Commission has received public comment supporting the proposed rule change.⁵

Section 19(b)(2) of the Exchange Act⁶ provides that, within 45 days of the publication of notice of the filing of a proposed rule change, or within such longer period up to 90 days as the Commission may designate if it finds such longer period to be appropriate and publishes its reasons for so finding, or as to which the self-regulatory organization consents, the Commission shall either approve the proposed rule change, disapprove the proposed rule change, or institute proceedings to determine whether the proposed rule change should be disapproved. The 45th day after publication of the Notice is July 17, 2025. The Commission is extending this 45-day time period.

In order to provide the Commission with sufficient time to consider the Proposed Rule Change, the Commission finds that it is appropriate to designate a longer period within which to take action on the Proposed Rule Change.

Accordingly, the Commission, pursuant to Section 19(b)(2) of the Exchange Act,⁷ designates August 31, 2025, as the date by which the Commission shall either approve, disapprove, or institute proceedings to determine whether to disapprove the Proposed Rule Change.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

[Release No. 34-103485; File No. SR-MIAX-2025-33]

Self-Regulatory Organizations; Miami International Securities Exchange, LLC; Notice of Filing and Immediate Effectiveness of a Proposed Rule Change To Amend the MIA X Options Exchange Fee Schedule To Extend the Temporary Discount Program for the Open-Close Report

July 17, 2025.

Pursuant to Section 19(b)(1) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 ("Act" or "Exchange Act"),¹ and Rule 19b-4 thereunder,² notice is hereby given that on July 9, 2025, Miami International Securities Exchange, LLC ("MIAX" or "Exchange") filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission ("Commission") the proposed rule change as described in Items I, II, and III below, which Items have been prepared by the Exchange. The Commission is publishing this notice to solicit comments on the proposed rule change from interested persons.

I. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement of the Terms of Substance of the Proposed Rule Change

The Exchange proposes to amend the MIA X Options Exchange Fee Schedule (the "Fee Schedule") to extend the temporary discount program for the Open-Close Report.

The text of the proposed rule change is available on the Exchange's website at <https://www.miaxglobal.com/markets/us-options/all-options-exchanges/rule-filings> and MIAX's principal office.

II. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement of the Purpose of, and Statutory Basis for, the Proposed Rule Change

In its filing with the Commission, the Exchange included statements concerning the purpose of and basis for the proposed rule change and discussed any comments it received on the proposed rule change. The text of these statements may be examined at the places specified in Item IV below. The Exchange has prepared summaries, set forth in sections A, B, and C below, of the most significant aspects of such statements.

A. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement of the Purpose of, and Statutory Basis for, the Proposed Rule Change

1. Purpose

The Exchange proposes to amend Section 6)e) of the Fee Schedule to extend the temporary discount program for the Open-Close Report until December 31, 2025. Currently, the Exchange provides a temporary 20% discount on fees assessed to Exchange Members³ and non-Members that purchase $20,000 or more in a single order of historical Open-Close Report data, which is set to expire on June 30, 2025.⁴ The discount and its application are substantively similar to the discounts recently provided by competing options exchanges for their open-close data products.⁵

By way of background, the Exchange offers two versions of the Open-Close Report, an end-of-day summary and intra-day report.⁶ The End-of-Day Open-Close Report is a volume summary of trading activity on the Exchange at the option level by origin (Priority Customer⁷, Non-Priority Customer, Firm, Broker-Dealer, and Market Maker⁸), side of the market (buy or sell), contract volume, and transaction type (opening or closing). The customer and professional customer volume is further broken down into trade size buckets (less than 100 contracts, 100–199 contracts, greater than 199 contracts).

The Intra-Day Open-Close Report provides similar information to that of the End-of-Day version but is produced and updated every 10 minutes during the trading day. Data is captured in “snapshots” taken every 10 minutes throughout the trading day and is available to subscribers within five minutes of the conclusion of each 10-minute period. Each update represents the aggregate data captured from the current “snapshot” and all previous “snapshots.” The Intra-Day Open-Close data provides a volume summary of trading activity on the Exchange at the option level by origin (Priority Customer, Non-Priority Customer, Firm, Broker-Dealer, and Market Maker), side of the market (buy or sell), and transaction type (opening or closing). All volume is further broken down into trade size buckets (less than 100 contracts, 100–199 contracts, greater than 199 contracts).

Both versions of the Open-Close Report contain proprietary Exchange trade data and do not include trade data from any other exchange. The Intra-Day and End-of-Day Open-Close Report data products are completely voluntary products, in that the Exchange is not required by any rule or regulation to make this data available and that potential customers may purchase it on an ad-hoc basis only if they voluntarily choose to do so. The Open-Close Report is also a historical data product and not a real-time data feed.

The Exchange makes the Open-Close Report available for purchase to Members and non-Members.⁹ Customers may currently purchase the Open-Close Report on a subscription basis (monthly) or by ad hoc request for a specified month or number of months. The Exchange assesses a monthly fee of $600 per month for subscribing to the End-of-Day summary Open-Close Report and $2,000 per month for subscribing to the Intra-Day Open-Close Report.¹⁰ The Exchange also assesses a fee of $500 per request per month for ad-hoc requests for historical End-of-Day Open-Close data.¹¹ An ad-hoc request for historical End-of-Day Open-Close data can be for any number of months beginning with June 2021 for which the data is available.¹² The Exchange also assesses a fee of $1,000 per request per month for ad-hoc requests for historical Intra-Day Open-Close data.¹³ An ad-hoc request for historical Intra-Day Open-Close data can be for any number of months beginning with January 2013 for which the data is available.¹⁴ The Exchange also provides discounts in Section 6)e) of the Fee Schedule for customers who request multiple subscriptions or who are Qualifying Academic Purchasers.¹⁵

Open-Close Report data is subject to direct competition from similar end-of-day and intra-day options trading summaries offered by several other options exchanges.¹⁶ All of these exchanges offer essentially the same end-of-day and intra-day options trading summary information for trading activity on those exchanges.

Currently, the Exchange provides a temporary pricing incentive program in which Members and non-Members that purchase historical Open-Close Report data receive a percentage fee discount when a specific purchase threshold is met. Specifically, the footnote “e.” below the table of fees for the Open-Close Report in Section 6)e) of the Fee Schedule, which applies to the rows for “End-of-Day Ad-hoc Request (historical data)” and “Intra-Day Ad-hoc Request (historical data),” provides a 20% discount for ad-hoc purchases of historical Open-Close Report data of $20,000 or more.¹⁷ To encourage the purchase of monthly subscriptions to Open-Close Report data, the temporary discount program is provided to only existing subscribers¹⁸ who purchase the same category of historical data for which they have a monthly Intra-Day or an End-of-Day subscription. The temporary discount program cannot be combined with any other discounts offered by the Exchange, including the academic discount provided for Qualifying Academic Purchasers¹⁹ of historical Open-Close Report data. The temporary discount program for Open-Close Report is currently set to expire on June 30, 2025.

¹⁷ The discount applies on an order-by-order basis. To qualify for the discount, an order must contain End-of-Day Ad-hoc Requests (historical data) and/or Intra-Day Ad-hoc Requests (historical data) and must total $20,000 or more. The Exchange does not aggregate purchases made throughout a billing cycle for purposes of the incentive program. The discount applies to the total purchase price, once the $20,000 minimum purchase is satisfied (for example, a qualifying order of $25,000 would be discounted to $20,000, i.e. receive a 20% discount of $5,000). This is in line with the similar discount programs offered by the Cboe exchanges for their open-close data products. See supra note 5.

¹⁸ The Exchange notes that this differs from the Cboe exchanges’ discount program for their open-close data product, which discount applies to all market participants irrespective of whether the market participant is a new or current purchaser. See, e.g., Securities Exchange Act Release No. 101509 (November 4, 2024), 89 FR 88845 (November 8, 2024) (SR–CBOE–2024–049).

The Exchange now proposes to extend the temporary discount program until December 31, 2025.²⁰ The purpose of this extension is to continue attracting subscribers of historical Open-Close Report data and making such data more widely accessible.

2. Statutory Basis

The Exchange believes that the proposed rule change is consistent with Section 6(b) of the Act,²¹ in general, and furthers the objectives of Section 6(b)(5) of the Act,²² in particular, in that it is designed to prevent fraudulent and manipulative acts and practices, to promote just and equitable principles of trade, to remove impediments to and perfect the mechanism of a free and open market and a national market system, and to protect investors and the public interest, and that it is not designed to permit unfair discrimination among customers, brokers, or dealers. The Exchange also believes that its proposed changes to its Fee Schedule concerning fees for the Open-Close Report is consistent with Section 6(b) of the Act²³ in general, and furthers the objectives of Section 6(b)(4) of the Act²⁴ in particular, in that it is an equitable allocation of dues, fees and other charges among its members and other recipients of Exchange data.

In adopting Regulation NMS, the Commission granted self-regulatory organizations (“SROs”) and broker-dealers increased authority and flexibility to offer new and unique market data to the public. It was believed that this authority would expand the amount of data available to consumers, and also spur innovation and competition for the provision of market data. Particularly, the Open-Close Report further broadens the availability of U.S. options market data to investors consistent with the principles of Regulation NMS. The data product also promotes increased transparency through the dissemination of the Open-Close Report. Particularly, information regarding opening and closing activity across different option series during the trading day may indicate investor sentiment, which may allow market participants to make better informed trading decisions throughout the day. Subscribers to the data may also be able to enhance their ability to analyze option trade and volume data and create and test trading models and analytical strategies. The Exchange believes that the Open-Close Report provides a valuable tool that subscribers can use to gain comprehensive insight into the trading activity in a particular series, but also emphasizes such data is not necessary for trading and completely optional. Moreover, several other exchanges offer similar data products which offer the same type of data content through end-of-day or intra-day reports.²⁵

The Exchange operates in a highly competitive environment. Indeed, there are currently 18 registered options exchanges that trade options. Based on publicly available information, no single options exchange had more than approximately 11–12% of the equity options market share for the month of May 2025 and the Exchange represented only approximately 8.49% of the equity options market share for the month of May 2025.²⁶ The Commission has repeatedly expressed its preference for competition over regulatory intervention in determining prices, products, and services in the securities markets. Particularly, in Regulation NMS, the Commission highlighted the importance of market forces in determining prices and SRO revenues and, also, recognized that current regulation of the market system “has been remarkably successful in promoting market competition in its broader forms that are most important to investors and listed companies.”²⁷ Making similar data products available to market participants fosters competition in the marketplace, and constrains the ability of exchanges to charge supra-competitive fees. In the event that a market participant views one exchange’s data product as more or less attractive than the competition they can, and do, switch between similar products. The extension of the fee discount for historical Open-Close Report data is a result of this competitive environment, as the Exchange seeks to continue attracting subscribers of historical Open-Close Report data and making such data more widely accessible.

The Exchange believes that the temporary discount program for any Member or non-Member who purchases historical Open-Close Report data is reasonable because such purchasers receive a 20% discount for purchasing $20,000 or more worth of historical Open-Close Report data. The Exchange believes the discount is reasonable as it gives purchasers the ability to use and test the historical Open-Close Report data at a discounted rate and therefore encourages and promotes users to purchase the historical Open-Close Report data. Specifically, the discount is similar to discounts provided for a similar data product by other options exchanges.²⁸ Further, the extension of the temporary discount is intended to continue promoting increased use of the Exchange’s historical Open-Close Report data by defraying some of the costs a purchaser would ordinarily have to expend. Further, providing the discount to only existing subscribers of a monthly Intra-Day or an End-of-Day subscription is designed to encourage the purchase of monthly subscriptions to Open-Close Report data.

The Exchange believes that the extension of the temporary discount program is equitable and not unfairly discriminatory because it applies equally to all Members and non-Members who are existing subscribers of Open-Close Report data and chose to also purchase historical Open-Close Report data. Providing the discount to only existing subscribers of a monthly Intra-Day or an End-of-Day subscription is not unfairly discriminatory because it is a reasonable means to encourage the purchase of monthly subscriptions to Open-Close Report data. Lastly, the purchase of this data product is discretionary and not compulsory. Indeed, no market participant is required to purchase the historical Open-Close Report data, and the Exchange is not required to make the historical Open-Close Report data available to all investors. Potential purchasers may request the data at any time if they believe it to be valuable or may decline to purchase such data.

¹⁹ See supra note 15.

²⁰ The Exchange notes that at the end of this period, the temporary discount program will expire unless the Exchange files another 19b–4 Rule Filing with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the “Commission”) to amend the terms or extend the discount program.

²⁸ See supra note 5. Again, the Exchange notes that this differs from the Cboe exchanges’ discount program for their open-close data product, which discount applies to all market participants irrespective of whether the market participant is a new or current purchaser. See, e.g., Securities Exchange Act Release No. 101509 (November 4, 2024), 89 FR 88845 (November 8, 2024) (SR–CBOE–2024–049).

B. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement on Burden on Competition

The Exchange does not believe that the proposed rule change will impose any burden on competition that is not necessary or appropriate in furtherance of the purposes of the Act. The Exchange operates in a highly competitive environment in which the Exchange must continually adjust its fees to remain competitive. Because competitors are free to modify their own fees in response, the Exchange believes that the degree to which fee changes in this market may impose any burden on competition is extremely limited. As discussed above, Open-Close Report data is subject to direct competition from several other options exchanges that offer substantively similar substitutes to the Exchange's Open-Close Report, albeit for trading data on those exchanges.²⁹ Moreover, purchase of historical Open-Close Report data is entirely optional. It is designed to help investors understand underlying market trends to improve the quality of investment decisions, but is not necessary to execute a trade.

The rule change is grounded in the Exchange's efforts to compete more effectively. In this competitive environment, potential purchasers are free to choose which, if any, similar product to purchase to satisfy their need for market information. As a result, the Exchange believes this proposed rule change permits fair competition among national securities exchanges. Further, the Exchange believes that the proposed change will not cause any unnecessary or inappropriate burden on intermarket competition, as the extension of the temporary discount program applies uniformly to any purchaser of historical Open-Close Report data.

C. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement on Comments on the Proposed Rule Change Received From Members, Participants, or Others

Written comments were neither solicited nor received.

III. Date of Effectiveness of the Proposed Rule Change and Timing for Commission Action

The foregoing rule change has become effective pursuant to Section 19(b)(3)(A)(ii) of the Act,³⁰ and Rule

19b-4(f)(2)³¹ thereunder. At any time within 60 days of the filing of the proposed rule change, the Commission summarily may temporarily suspend such rule change if it appears to the Commission that such action is necessary or appropriate in the public interest, for the protection of investors, or otherwise in furtherance of the purposes of the Act. If the Commission takes such action, the Commission shall institute proceedings to determine whether the proposed rule should be approved or disapproved.

IV. Solicitation of Comments

Proposed Collection; Comment Request; Extension: Exchange Act Form 10

Upon Written Request, Copies Available From: Securities and Exchange Commission, Office of FOIA Services, 100 F Street NE, Washington, DC 20549-2736

Notice is hereby given that, pursuant to the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 (44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq.), the Securities and Exchange Commission ("Commission") is soliciting comments on the collection of information summarized below. The Commission plans to submit this existing collection of information to the Office of Management and Budget ("OMB") for extension and approval.

Form 10 (17 CFR 249.210) is used by issuers to register a class of securities pursuant to Section 12(b) or Section 12(g) (15 U.S.C. 78(b) and 78(g)) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. Form 10 requires financial information and other disclosures about matters such as the issuer's business, properties, identity and remuneration of management, outstanding securities, securities to be registered, and financial condition.
