SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The NPS is the Federal agency tasked by the Secretary of the Interior with administering the National Register of Historic Places (National Register). The revision and reissue of National Register Bulletin 38: Guidelines for Evaluating and Documenting Traditional Cultural Places (TCP Bulletin) is in accordance with the authority provided by the National Preservation Act of 1966 (54 U.S.C. 300101, et seq.)(NHPA), and National Register Program regulations (36 CFR part 60). Completion of the project will significantly assist the Federal Advisory Council on Historic Preservation; Native Americans, Native Hawaiians, Native Alaskans; Federal agencies; State and Tribal Historic Preservation Officers; national, State, and local preservation organizations; preservation professionals; and the general public in the implementation of 36 CFR part 60, 36 CFR part 800, and environmental reviews pursuant to 54 U.S.C. 306107 and 306108, and 42 U.S.C. 4321, et seq.

With the release of the TCP Bulletin in 1990, the NPS provided guidance for evaluating and documenting places for inclusion in the National Register of Historic Places (National Register) for their historic relationships with traditional cultural communities. The TCP Bulletin was revised and reissued in 1992 to address changes in the NHPA providing that places of traditional religious and cultural importance to Native American Tribes or Native Hawaiian Organizations may be included in the National Register. It was revised and reissued again in 1998 to clarify that Traditional Cultural Places (TCPs) are not a new property type nor an additional level of significance. The TCP Bulletin as published in 1990, and revised in 1992 and 1998, has been an essential resource for evaluating and documenting TCPs. Over the past decades, there have been requests to the NPS for further clarification and expansion of this guidance from Native American Tribes, Native Hawaiian Organizations, State and Tribal Historic
