

Although NASD Rule 7010(f)(2) generally applies to both members and non-member subscribers to NWII service, this filing will only effect a change to the fees charged to subscribers who are not NASD members. Nasdaq is filing a separate but virtually identical rule change to impose the proposed new fees on NASD members.

2. Statutory Basis

Nasdaq believes that the proposed rule change is consistent with the provisions of section 15A(b)(5) of the Act,⁹ which requires that the rules of the NASD provide for the equitable allocation of reasonable dues, fees and other charges among members and issuers and other persons using any facility or system which the NASD operates or controls. The proposed fees, which will only apply to those who utilize NWII service, simply pass on the costs associated with increasing the capacity of EWN II to keep pace with volume increases. Ensuring adequate capacity is absolutely essential to protecting the integrity of the Nasdaq market, maintaining the confidence of the investing public, and preparing for decimalization.

B. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement on Burden on Competition

The Exchange does not believe that the proposed rule change will impose any inappropriate burden on competition.

C. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement on Comments on the Proposed Rule Change Received From Member, Participants or Others

Written comments were neither solicited nor received.

III. Solicitation of Comments

Interested persons are invited to submit written data, views, and arguments concerning the foregoing, including whether the proposed rule change is consistent with the Act. Persons making written submissions should file six copies thereof with the Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, 450 Fifth Street, NW., Washington, DC 20549-0609. Copies of the submission, all subsequent amendments, all written statements with respect to the proposed rule change that are filed with the eight-to-one ratio). A subscriber also will be subject to the additional circuit charge when the subscriber has not maximized capacity on its T1 circuits by placing six SDPs on a T1 circuit. This pricing structure encourages subscribers to maximize circuit capacity and is aimed at preventing the premature exhaustion of such capacity.

⁹ 15 U.S.C. 78o-3(b)(5).

Commission, and all written communications relating to the proposed rule change between the Commission and any person, other than those that may be withheld from the public in accordance with the provisions of 5 U.S.C. 552, will be available for inspection and copying at the Commission's Public Reference Room. Copies of such filing will also be available for inspection and copying at the principal office of the Exchange. All submissions should refer to File No. SR-NASD-00-74 and should be submitted by January 25, 2001.

IV. Commission's Findings and Order Granting Accelerated Approval of Proposed Rule Change

The Commission has reviewed the Nasdaq's proposed rule change and finds, for the reasons set forth below, that the proposal is consistent with the requirements of section 15A of the Act¹⁰ and the rules and regulations thereunder applicable to a national securities exchange. Specifically, the Commission believes the proposal is consistent with sections 15A(b)(5) of the Act.¹¹ Section 15A(b)(5) requires that the rules of a registered securities association provide for the equitable allocation of reasonable dues, fees and other charges among members and issuers and other persons using any facility or system which the association operates or controls. The above fee increases proposed by Nasdaq pass on the costs associated with increasing the capacity of EWN II to users of the NWII service. The Commission believes that such a fee increase, necessitated by recent system volume increases is a reasonable means by which Nasdaq intends to ensuring adequate capacity of its EWN II system.

Nasdaq has requested that the Commission approve this proposed rule change on an accelerated basis. Nasdaq believes that accelerated approval of this proposal is necessary to ensure that the costs associated with the expansion of its network are allocated uniformly among all NWII subscribers, regardless of whether they are members or non-members. The Commission finds good cause for approving the proposed rule change (SR-NASD-00-74) prior to the thirtieth day after the date of publication of notice thereof in the Federal Register.

It Is Therefore Ordered, pursuant to section 19(b)(2) of the Act,¹² that the proposed rule change (SR-NASD-00-74) is hereby approved on an accelerated basis. The rule change has become effective as of December 1, 2000 and will remain in effect until January 31, 2001.

For the Commission, by the Division of Market Regulation, pursuant to delegated authority.¹³

II. Self-Regulatory Organization’s Statement of the Purpose of, and Statutory Basis for, the Proposed Rule Change

In its filing with the Commission, the Nasdaq included statements concerning the purpose of and basis for the proposed rule change and discussed any comments it received on the proposed rule change. The text of these statements may be examined at the places specified in Item IV below. The Nasdaq has prepared summaries, set forth in Sections A, B, and C below, of the most significant aspects of such statements.

A. Self-Regulatory Organization’s Statement of the Purpose of, and Statutory Basis for, the Proposed Rule Change

1. Purpose

The purpose of this filing is to amend the subscriber fees applicable to NASD members that use the Nasdaq Workstation II (“NWII”).

In 1994, Nasdaq rolled out the NWII service, which provided many enhancements to the then-existing Nasdaq Workstation service.³ As part of the NWII rollout, Nasdaq installed a network, known as the Enterprise Wide Network (“EWN I”), to deliver NWII functionality. To access NWII service, each subscriber location has at least one service delivery platform (“SDP”), or server, that resides on the network and connects to Nasdaq by a dedicated circuit. The SDP functions as the subscriber’s gateway from the NWII to the enterprise wide network. Each SDP currently is permitted to support up to eight presentation devices (“PD”), or Nasdaq Workstation IIs, although a firm may elect to have fewer than eight PDs on a single SDP. In addition, a subscriber may obtain NWII service through an application programming interface (“API”), which essentially allows a firm to obtain NWII Service using the firm’s own hardware (e.g., personal computer) and software systems to access, display, interface with, and operate NWII service.

Due to the ongoing growth in the Nasdaq market and increases in daily share volume after EWN I was installed,⁴ Nasdaq became concerned in 1997 that its existing enterprise wide network capacity was rapidly approaching maximization. Specifically, the network’s bandwidth—the amount of data that can be transmitted through a given communications circuit in a fixed amount of time—could only handle one and one-half billion shares per day. EWN I was expected to reach maximum circuit capacity during the second quarter of 1999.⁵ To avoid the potential for any disruption to the Nasdaq market, Nasdaq contracted in late 1997 with MCI Communications Corporation (“MCI”) to build a new network—EWN II—to accommodate increased usage and provide increased circuit capacity.

EWN II is a significant improvement over EWN I. Among other things, the system is fully scaleable and twice as fast as EWN I. The network was originally built with a 128 kilobit (“kb”) data stream feed speed scaleable up to T1 speed (1544 kilobits) levels. Nasdaq began converting subscribers to EWN II in 1998 and completed the conversion in 1999. In conjunction with the conversion, the Nasdaq filed fee increases which became effective in 1998 relating to EWN II.⁶

Since that time, Nasdaq share volume has continued to increase dramatically. The highest average daily share volume for a month in 2000 was just over 2 billion shares, compared to less than 1.5 billion in 1999, and less than 1 billion in 1998. The highest peak share volume day in 2000 was just under 3 billion shares, compared to under 2 billion in 1999, and just over 1 billion in 1998. The highest actual cumulative share volume for a month occurred twice in 2000 at over 40 billion shares, compared to over 30 billion in 1999, and almost 20 billion in 1998. In March 2000, share volume increased by over 103% compared to March 1999. In April 2000, the peak share volume increased by over 103% compared to April 1999.

To accommodate these increases, Nasdaq expanded the EWN II bandwidth from 128 kb to 192 kb in October 2000. The expanded bandwidth also gives Nasdaq the ability to support new products as they are introduced and future trading applications that will be developed. As a result of expansion to a 192 kb bandwidth, the fees that WorldCom⁷ charges Nasdaq have increased by $375 per month per circuit. Nasdaq proposes to pass on these costs to subscribers for the billing period covered by December 13, 2000 through February 28, 2001.⁸

In order to accommodate additional increases in volume expected to accompany decimalization, Nasdaq will expand EWN II bandwidth to 256kb, and consequently, the fees that WorldCom charges Nasdaq will increase by an additional $160 per month per circuit. As of December 2000, Nasdaq projects that decimalization in penny increments will significantly increase the number of quote updates, such that on high volume days, a 192 kb

⁷ MCI and WorldCom merged in September 1998.

⁸ The Commission notes the effective date for this proposed fee increase is December 13, 2000, the date this filing was received by the Commission. Nasdaq has amended its filing to change its stated effective date from December 1, 2000 to December 13, 2000, and has indicated that it intends to submit a separate filing pursuant to Section 19b-2 proposing to recover its fees for the period of December 1–12, 2000. See Letter from Edward S. Knight, Executive Vice President and General Counsel, Nasdaq, to Katherine England, Assistant Director, Division of Market Regulation, SEC, dated December 21, 2000.

³ NWII provides a windows-based environment and several data management facilities not previously available in Nasdaq’s former (pre-1994) workstation service.

⁴ When Nasdaq installed EWN I, Nasdaq’s average daily share volume (for 1994) was 295 million and projections showed that the average daily share volume for 1997 would be 520 million. In 1997, however, average daily share volume was 650 million.

⁵ Similar to any other private network, EWN I was designed to have a maximum circuit capacity (i.e., 2,100 circuits).

bandwidth would be inadequate to support quote traffic. Therefore, Nasdaq proposes to pass on the costs associated with the increase to a 256 kb bandwidth effective March 1, 2001.

Under the proposal, the fee charged to a subscriber for an SDP would increase from $1,500 per month for each server to $1,875 per month from December 13, 2000 through February 28, 2001, and then to $2,035 per month, beginning March 1, 2001.⁹ The charge for an additional circuit would increase from $2,700 per month to $3,075 per month from December 13, 2000 through February 28, 2001, and then increase again on March 1, 2001 to $3,235 per month.¹⁰

Although NASD Rule 7010(f)(2) generally applies to both members and non-member subscribers to NWII service, this filing will only effect a change to the fees charged to NASD members. Nasdaq is filing a separate but virtually identical rule change to impose the proposed new fees on non-member subscribers.

2. Statutory Basis

Nasdaq believes that the proposed rule change is consistent with the provisions of section 15A(b)(5) of the Act,¹¹ which requires that the rules of the NASD provide for the equitable allocation of reasonable dues, fees and other charges among members and issuers and other persons using any facility or system which the NASD operates or controls. The proposed fees, which will only apply to those who utilize NWII service, simply pass on the costs associated with increasing the capacity of EWN II to keep pace with volume increases. Ensuring adequate capacity is absolutely essential to protecting the integrity of the Nasdaq market, maintaining the confidence of the investing public, and preparing for decimalization.

⁹ See Id.

¹⁰ As noted above, a T1 circuit supports up to six SDPs, and an SDP supports up to eight PDs. A subscriber will be subject to the additional circuit charge when the subscriber has not maximized capacity on its SDPs by placing eight PDs and/or API servers on an SDP; in such case, the NASD/Nasdaq will charge the additional circuit charge for those "underutilized" SDPs (the difference between the number of SDPs a subscriber has and the number of SDPs the subscriber would need to support its PDs and/or API servers, assuming an eight-to-one ratio). A subscriber also will be subject to the additional circuit charge when the subscriber has not maximized capacity on its T1 circuits by placing six

B. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement on Burden on Competition

The Exchange does not believe that the proposed rule change will impose any burden on competition.

C. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement on Comments on the Proposed Rule Change Received from Members, Participants, or Others

Written comments were neither solicited nor received.

III. Date of Effectiveness of the Proposed Rule Change and Timing for Commission Action

Because the foregoing rule change establishes or changes a due, fee, or other charge imposed by the Exchange, it has become effective pursuant to section 19(b)(3)(A)(ii)¹² of the Act and subparagraph (f)(2) of Rule 19b-4 thereunder.¹³ At any time within 60 days of the filing of the proposed rule change, the Commission may summarily abrogate such rule change if it appears to the Commission that such action is necessary or appropriate in the public interest, for the protection of investors, or otherwise in furtherance of the purposes of the Act.

IV. Solicitation of Comments

Interested persons are invited to submit written data, views, and arguments concerning the foregoing, including whether the proposed rule change is consistent with the Act. Persons making written submissions should file six copies thereof with the Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, 450 Fifth Street, NW., Washington, DC 20549-0609. Copies of the submission, all subsequent amendments, all written statements with respect to the proposed rule change that are filed with the Commission, and all written communications relating to the proposed rule change between the Commission and any person, other than those that may be withheld from the public in accordance with the provisions of 5 U.S.C. 552, will be available for inspection and copying at the Commission's Public Reference Room. Copies of such filing will also be available for inspection and copying at the principal office of the Exchange. December 22, 2000.

Pursuant to section 19(b)(1) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 ("Act")¹ and Rule 19b-4 thereunder,² notice is hereby given that on December 5, 2000, the National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc. ("Nasdaq"), filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission ("Commission" or "SEC") the proposed rule change as described in Items I, II, and III below, which Items have been prepared by Nasdaq. Nasdaq has designated this proposal as one establishing or changing a due, fee, or other charge imposed by the Association under section 19(b)(3)(A)(ii) of the Act,³ which renders the proposal effective upon filing with the Commission. The Commission is publishing this notice to solicit comments on the proposed rule change from interested persons.
