Estimated Cost: FEMA estimates hour burden costs to be $1,246,503 annually. The cost is based on the number of burden hours for each type of information collection/form, as indicated above, and the estimated wage rate for those individuals responsible for collecting the information or completing the form. FEMA assumes that urban and regional planners are the most likely staff to have responsibility for information collected and forms completed at the State level. Wage rates were determined using data from the Department of Labor, Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS), which indicates that the median hourly earnings of urban and regional planners for 2000 are $23.88.
