The purpose is to support relevant research which will promote improvements in family planning services. Therefore, funds available under this announcement are for projects to conduct applied research which will be useful to family planning administrators and providers, researchers, and officials of local, State, and the Federal government, including OPA, in order to improve the delivery of family planning services to persons needing and desiring such services.

Research projects supported under this announcement are expected to be consistent with one or more of the following performance goals for the Family Planning Program in the Department of Health and Human Services: (1) Improve health outcomes, (2) Increase utilization of preventive health care, particularly among vulnerable and special needs populations, (3) Increase the proportion of pregnancies that are intended, or (4) Reduce pregnancies among unmarried adolescent females.

Background

The Family Planning Program, authorized by Title X of the Public Health Service Act (42 U.S.C. 300, et seq.) is the only federal program devoted solely to funding family planning and related preventive health care services. This program supports a nationwide network of approximately 4,500 clinics and provides family planning services and supplies as well as relevant preventive health services to approximately 5 million persons per year. Family planning, like many health care services, faces continuing and emerging challenges to delivering quality care. This announcement calling for service delivery improvement research applications is intended to help family planning programs meet those challenges.

The research emphases identified for attention in this announcement are consistent with the purpose of the Title X family planning services program, which is to provide family planning services to persons from low-income families and others. Section 1001 of the Act, as amended, authorizes grants "to assist in the establishment and operation of voluntary family planning projects which shall offer a broad range of acceptable and effective family planning methods and services (including natural family planning methods, infertility services, and services for adolescents)."

This announcement also draws on a report issued by OPA in July, 2004: Future Directions for Family Planning Research: A Framework for Title X Family Service Delivery Improvement Research. This report was the
