SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

I. Background

During the past decade, an increased awareness of medical technology innovation and its promise and progress has revealed critical problems in the path from discovery through development to delivery. This spring, Secretary of Health and Human Services Tommy G. Thompson appointed a top-level task force to present new ideas on how HHS can coordinate its efforts to help stimulate medical innovation. The task force members include: Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, Director, Julie Gerberding; Centers for Medicare and Medicaid, Administrator, Mark B. McClellan; Acting Commissioner of Food and Drugs, Lester M. Crawford; and National Institutes of Health, Director, Elias A. Zerhouni. Commissioner Crawford will serve as the task force's Chair.

Secretary Thompson asked the task force to look for opportunities across HHS to promote speedier access to new innovative medical technologies that can improve people's health and save lives. He asked the task force to report to him by the end of the year on ways that better coordination across HHS could streamline the way we do business and make safe, effective medical technologies more quickly and readily available to Americans.

On May 24, 2004, a Federal Register notice (69 FR 29544) was published asking for comments on how to stimulate innovation in medical technologies, such as drug and biological products and medical devices.

Comments have been received and are being evaluated and condensed into material suitable for a report. On November 8, 2004, we will not only focus on opportunities presented at the public meeting, but those promising ideas that HHS has already received and plans to highlight. The ideas will be posted 1 week before the public meeting in the electronic docket (Docket No. 2004S-0233) located at <http://www.fda.gov/ohrms/dockets/dockets/04S-0233.htm>.

II. Registration and Presentations

Registration is required to attend the meeting. Seating is limited to 120 people and will be on a first come, first served basis. If you need special accommodations due to a disability, please inform Nancy L. Stanicic by October 29, 2004.

If you wish to present information at the public meeting, submit your electronic request and an abstract of your presentation by close of business on October 29, 2004, to Nancy Stanicic (see Contact).

The request to participate should contain the following information: (1) Presenter's name; (2) address; (3) telephone number; (4) e-mail address; (5) affiliation, if any; (6) abstract of the presentation; and (7) approximate amount of time requested for the presentation.

We request that persons and groups having similar interests consolidate their comments and present them through a single representative. We will allocate the time available for the meeting among the persons who request to present. Because of limited time, we will accept only one presenter per organization. We reserve the right to deny requests if the proposed topic is not germane. After reviewing the requests to present and the abstracts, we will schedule each appearance and notify each participant by e-mail or telephone of the time allotted to the person and the approximate time the person's presentation is scheduled to begin. Presenters planning to use electronic presentation in Microsoft PowerPoint, Microsoft Word, or Adobe Acrobat (pdf) must send them to us by close of business on November 4, 2004. Presenters who do not meet this deadline may provide handouts of their presentations at the meeting.

After the meeting, the schedule and presentations will be placed on file in the Division of Dockets Management (see Addresses) under the docket number listed in the heading of this document.
