I. Background

The Institute of Museum and Library Services is the primary source of federal support for the Nation's libraries and museums. We advance, support, and empower America's museums, libraries, and related organizations through grant making, research, and policy development. To learn more, visit www.imls.gov.

II. Current Actions

IMLS seeks to advance an ambitious new agency learning agenda that includes key questions on equity in IMLS's discretionary (competitive) grantmaking process. To carry out this agenda, IMLS has commissioned Mathematica to conduct an independent study which will provide descriptive information to help IMLS better understand the barriers and facilitators to equity in its current grantmaking, data collection, and decision-making processes. It will also help the agency identify opportunities and effective strategies for increasing equitable grantmaking practices to libraries, museums, and other cultural institutions.
