[GSAR Amendment 2005–01; GSAR Case 2004–G508 (Change 14)]

RIN 3090–AI07

General Services Administration Acquisition Regulation; Deviations

AGENCIES: General Services Administration (GSA), Office of the Chief Acquisition Officer.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: The General Services Administration (GSA) is amending the General Services Administration Acquisition Regulation (GSAR) by issuing a final rule to modify existing policy on obtaining deviations from both the Federal Acquisition Regulation (FAR) and GSAR. This final rule will include revised procedures for obtaining deviations and will clarify the term “class deviation,” and add clarification regarding the term “contract action”.

DATES: Effective Date: March 29, 2005.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT The Regulatory Secretariat (VIR), Room 4035, GS Building, Washington, DC, 20405, (202) 501–4755, for information pertaining to status or publication schedules. For clarification of content, contact Mr. Ernest Woodson, Procurement Analyst, at (202) 501–3775. Please cite Amendment 2005–01, GSAR case 2004–G508 (Change 14).

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

A. Background

The FAR prescribes policies and procedures for authorizing deviations from the FAR when necessary to meet the specific needs and requirements of an agency unless precluded by law, executive order, or regulation. FAR 1.402 provides that the development and testing of new techniques and methods of acquisition should not be stifled simply because such actions would require a FAR deviation. However, deviations to the FAR and the GSAR have raised questions indicating the need to increase the involvement of the Office of the Chief Acquisition Officer. Therefore, this final rule modifies GSAR 501.403 and 501.404 to include revised procedures for obtaining deviations and clarify the term “class deviation,” and adds GSAR 501.404–70 to clarify the term “contract action.”

This is not a significant regulatory action and, therefore, was not subject to review under Section 6(b) of Executive Order 12866, Regulatory Planning and Review, dated September 30, 1993. This rule is not a major rule under 5 U.S.C. 804.

B. Regulatory Flexibility Act

The Regulatory Flexibility Act does not apply to this rule. This final rule does not constitute a significant FAR revision within the meaning of FAR 1.501 and Public Law 98–577, and publication for public comments is not required. However, GSA will consider comments from small entities concerning the affected GSAR Subpart 501.4 in accordance with 5 USC. 610. Interested must parties must submit such comments separately and should cite 5 U.S.C. 601, et. seq. (GSAR case 2004–G508), in correspondence.

C. Paperwork Reduction Act

The Paperwork Reduction Act does not apply because the changes to the GSAR do not impose recordkeeping or information collection requirements, or otherwise collect information from offerors, contractors, or members of the public that require approval of the Office of Management and Budget under 44 U.S.C.3501, et seq.

501.403 Individual deviations.

(a) An individual deviation affects only one contract action.

(1) The Head of the Contracting Activity (HCA) must approve an individual deviation to the FAR. The authority to grant an individual deviation may not be re-delegated. A copy of the deviation must be provided to GSA’s Senior Procurement Executive (SPE).

(2) An individual deviation to the GSAR must be approved by the HCA. The authority to grant an individual deviation may be re-delegated to the Contracting Director.

Each award under such a solicitation is considered an individual contract action.

(1) A class deviation to the FAR must be forwarded by the cognizant HCA to GSA's SPE for approval. Prior to approving a class deviation to the FAR, the SPE will consult with the Chairman of the Civilian Agency Acquisition Council (CAAC) in accordance with FAR 1.404(a)(1).

(2) A class deviation to the GSAR must be forwarded by the cognizant HCA to GSA's SPE for approval.

Endangered and Threatened Wildlife and Plants; Reclassification of Certain Vicuña Populations From Endangered to Threatened With a Special Rule; Technical Amendment

AGENCY: Fish and Wildlife Service, Interior.

ACTION: Final rule; technical amendment.

SUMMARY: This document amends the special rule for the vicuña (Vicugna vicugna), as published in the Federal Register on May 30, 2002. The May 30, 2002, special rule allows the importation into the United States of legal fiber and legal products produced with fiber from vicuña populations listed as threatened under the U.S. Endangered Species Act of 1973 (ESA) and in Appendix II of the Convention on International Trade in Endangered Species of Wild Fauna and Flora (CITES), if certain conditions are satisfied by the countries of origin and re-export. This document: (1) Corrects and clarifies the labeling requirements for legal vicuña fiber and fiber products; and (2) corrects an inadvertent typographical error in the section on annual reporting requirements.

DATES: This amendment to the special rule for vicuña is effective on March 29, 2005.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Background

On May 30, 2002, the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service (Service), published a final rule (67 FR 37695) reclassifying the vicuña (Vicugna vicugna) in Argentina, Bolivia, Chile, and Peru from endangered to threatened under the ESA. The final rule also established a special rule (under section 4(d) of the ESA) allowing the importation into the United States of legal fiber and legal products produced with fiber from vicuña populations listed as threatened under the Act and in Appendix II of CITES, if certain conditions are satisfied by the exporting (range) or re-exporting country. This special rule is contained in 50 CFR 17.40(m).

The special rule contains errors in two paragraphs: (1) Paragraph (m)(2)(i)(A) on labeling requirements for legal vicuña fiber and fiber products; and (2) paragraph (m)(4)(i) on annual reporting requirements. With this technical amendment, we are correcting existing errors, as well as making changes to these paragraphs to clarify language that has been identified as unclear.

Paragraph (m)(2)(i)(A) addresses labeling requirements for legal vicuña fiber and fiber products. The special rule is perhaps not explicit enough in explaining that labeling requirements pertain to all imports, exports, and re-exports. We are amending paragraph (m)(2)(i)(A) to explicitly state that labeling requirements pertain to all imports, exports, and re-exports, including raw fiber re-exported from, or products manufactured in, intermediary countries.

Paragraph (m)(2)(i)(A)(1) specifies that cloth and cloth products must bear the logo adopted by countries signatory to the “Convenio para la Conservación y Manejo de la Vicuña,” and the words “VICUÑA–(Country of Origin)” (where country of origin is the name of the original exporting country where the vicuña fiber in the products originated, either Argentina, Bolivia, or Chile) or “VICUÑA–PERU–ARTESANIA” (for Peru only). However, the words “VICUÑA–PERU–ARTESANIA” have never been used to label cloth and cloth products from Peru. Peru uses the words “VICUÑA–PERU” for these products. We are amending paragraph (m)(2)(i)(A)(1) to reflect that only the words “VICUÑA–(Country of Origin)” are used for cloth and cloth products.

In addition, paragraph (m)(2)(i)(A)(1) does not specify how the logo and
