All comments received to date on the Proposed Rules and the Policy Statement will be considered and need not be resubmitted.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

I. Background

Subtitle B of Title VII of the Dodd-Frank Act¹ (“Title VII”) amends the Securities Act of 1933 (“Securities Act”)² and the Exchange Act³ to substantially expand the regulation of the SB swap market with a goal of establishing a new regulatory framework within which this market can evolve in a more transparent, efficient, fair, accessible, and competitive manner.⁴ Under the Dodd-Frank Act, regulatory authority over derivatives is divided between the Commission and the CFTC, with the Commission having authority over SB swaps, the CFTC having authority over swaps, which represent the overwhelming majority of the overall market for derivatives subject to the Dodd-Frank Act, and the Commission and the CFTC jointly regulating mixed swaps.⁵

The Title VII amendments to the Exchange Act generally require, among other things: (1) The registration and comprehensive oversight of security-based swap dealers and major security-based swap participants;⁶ (2) the reporting of SB swaps to a registered security-based swap data repository (“SDR”), or to the Commission (if the SB swap is uncleared and no SDR will accept the SB swap), and dissemination of SB swap information to the public;⁷ (3) the clearing of SB swaps at a registered clearing agency (or a clearing agency that is exempt from registration) if the Commission makes a determination that such SB swaps are required to be cleared, unless an exception from the mandatory clearing requirement applies;⁸ and (4) if an SB swap is subject to the clearing requirement, the execution of the SB swap transaction on an exchange, on a security-based swap execution facility (“SB SEF”) registered under the Exchange Act,⁹ or on an SB SEF that has been exempted from registration by the Commission under the Exchange Act,¹⁰ unless no SB SEF or exchange makes such SB swap available for trading.¹¹

The Commission has proposed substantially all of the rules required to be adopted by Title VII.¹² The Commission also has adopted the following rules:

- Joint rules with the CFTC that further define the terms “swap dealer,” “security-based swap dealer,” “major swap participant,” “major security-based swap participant,” and “eligible contract participant,”¹³

⁵ Section 712(d) of the Dodd-Frank Act provides that the Commission and the CFTC, in consultation with the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, shall further define the terms “swap” and “security-based swap,” among others. These terms are defined in sections 721 and 761 of the Dodd-Frank Act and the Commission and the CFTC have adopted further definitions of these terms in a joint rulemaking. See Further Definition of “Swap,” “Security-Based Swap,” and “Security-Based Swap Agreement”; Security-Based Swap Agreement Recordkeeping, Release No. 33–9338 (July 18, 2012); 77 FR 48208 (Aug. 13, 2012) (“Product Definitions Rules”).

- Rules that establish the procedure by which clearing agencies submit SB swaps for a determination as to whether those instruments should be subject to mandatory clearing;¹⁴

- Joint rules with the CFTC that further define the terms “swap,” “security-based swap,” and “security-based swap agreement” and regarding the regulation of mixed swaps and SB swap agreement recordkeeping;¹⁵ and

- Rules that establish standards for how registered clearing agencies should manage their risks and run their operations.¹⁶

Most recently, the Commission has proposed the Cross-Border Proposed Rules, which address the treatment of cross-border SB swap transactions and non-U.S. persons acting in capacities regulated under Title VII.¹⁷ While the Commission may propose additional rules pertaining to SB swaps that are not mandated by Title VII, SB swap market participants and other members of the public now have a substantially complete picture of the Commission’s proposed regulatory framework for SB swaps. Additionally, the CFTC has adopted nearly all of the rules establishing the swaps regulatory regime.¹⁸

II. Reopening of Comment Periods

In light of the substantially complete picture of the proposed SB swap regulatory regime and the CFTC’s adoption of many of the rulemakings creating the swaps regulatory regime, the Commission is reopening the comment period of the Proposed Rules and the Policy Statement until July 22, 2013 to provide the public with an additional opportunity to analyze and comment upon the proposed SB swap regulatory framework, either in part or as a whole. Commenters may submit, and the Commission will consider, comments on any aspect of the Proposed Rules and the Policy Statement. In addition to the questions raised in the Proposed Rules and the Policy Statement, the Commission specifically seeks comments on the following:

- The economic consequences and effects, including costs and benefits, of the Proposed Rules, either individually or as a whole, including any related quantitative or qualitative information. Please specify whether such information includes the costs and benefits of systems, policies, or procedures already implemented to comply with the CFTC’s adoption of final rules and interpretive orders pertaining to Title VII (together, the “CFTC Rules”);

- The overall framework and approach to implementation detailed in the Proposed Rules and the Policy Statement;

- The relationship of the Proposed Rules to any parallel requirements of other authorities, including the CFTC and relevant foreign regulatory authorities;

- With respect to the CFTC Rules, whether and to what extent the Commission in adopting its own rules should emphasize consistency with the CFTC Rules versus adopting rules that are more tailored to the SB swap market, with inclusion of any specific examples where consistency or tailoring of a particular rule or rule set is more critically important; and

- Whether there are any areas where additional rules or interpretations should be proposed or formal guidance provided and if so, why.

The Commission is extending the time period in which to provide the Commission with comments.

DATES: The comment period for the proposed rule published March 25, 2013 (78 FR 18084), is extended. Comments should be received on or before July 8, 2013.
