SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

TPI's Tractebel Calypso Pipeline project includes a 96 mile, 24-inch diameter, X65 steel, standard API 5L compliant interstate natural gas pipeline. The pipeline will transport natural gas from TPI's liquefied natural gas (LNG) receiving and re-gasification terminal in Freeport, Grand Bahamas Island, to an onshore location in Broward County, FL. The offshore portion of the pipeline will be in a Class 1 area and extend from the shoreline to a water depth of 200 feet. The onshore portion of the pipeline will be in a Class 3 area.

TPI proposes to route a portion of this pipeline through a U.S. Navy exclusion zone offshore of Port Everglades, in Broward County, FL. As a condition of the pipeline traversing the exclusion zone, the U.S. Navy stipulated that approximately 14,000 feet of the pipeline be constructed of a low magnetic permeability steel material to prevent electromagnetic interference with U.S. Navy operations. A large percentage of this pipe will be installed using horizontal directional drill technology. TPI intends to use austenitic stainless steel pipe to satisfy the U.S. Navy requirement.

TPI has petitioned RSPA/OPS for a waiver from 49 CFR 192.113 to use 1.0 longitudinal joint factor (LJF) for austenitic stainless steel pipe. Section 192.113 requires a 0.80 LJF to be used in the design formula given under § 192.105 for pipe over 4 inches in diameter and manufactured to a specification not listed under § 192.113. This limitation is imposed because the quality of the pipe material, the manufacturing process, and the extent of inspection may not be to the same standard as the pipe for which a 1.0 LJF is permitted.

TPI stated the following reasons for selecting austenitic stainless steel pipe and the use of a 1.0 LJF:

- The pipeline meets the requirements of the U.S. Navy and is a low magnetic permeability pipe material;
- The pipeline is manufactured to the American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM) standards ASTM A-358 and A-999;
- The plate material is manufactured to comply with standards ASTM A-240 and Unified Numbering System S31254;
- The selected material is compatible with the bending properties and the test criteria in Appendix B of 49 CFR Part 192;
- The selected material is compatible with the weldability testing and inspection criteria required by Appendix B of 49 CFR Part 192; and
- The selected material is consistent with prior practice of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers (ASME) standard ASME B31.8 to allow a LJF of 1.0 when the longitudinal seam has been subjected to 100% X-ray.

TPI will require girth weld testing and will X-ray 100% of the girth welds of this pipeline as part of the procurement specification to comply with the weldability requirements of Appendix B, Section II (B) of 49 CFR Part 192. TPI will purchase ASTM A-358, Class 1 pipe and radiograph 100% of the longitudinal joint, and TPI will exceed the tensile testing requirements of ASTM A-358 (Section 12) for both the plate and the welded joint by performing one tensile test per 5 lengths of pipe. Only one test per 10 lengths of pipeline is required under the weldability section of Appendix B Section II (B) of 49 CFR Part 192.

RSPA/OPS is publishing this notice in the Federal Register to provide an opportunity for public comment. At the conclusion of the comment period, RSPA/OPS will make a determination on the proposed waiver and publish its decision in the Federal Register. This notice is RSPA/OPS' only request for public comment before making its final decision in this matter.

Authority: 49 U.S.C. 60118(c) and 49 CFR 1.53.

Issued in Washington, DC, on September 14, 2004.

Stacey L. Gerard,

Associate Administrator for Pipeline Safety.
