Proposal to approve under OMB delegated authority the implementation of the following report:

1. Report title: The Quantitative Impact Study

Agency form number: FR 3045

OMB control number: to be assigned

Frequency: One–time

Reporters: Large domestic bank holding companies

Annual reporting hours: 8,000 hours

Estimated average hours per response: 400 hours

Number of respondents: 20

Small businesses are not affected.

General description of report: This information collection is voluntary (12 U.S.C. 1844) and is given confidential treatment (5 U.S.C. 552(b)(4)).

Abstract: The Federal Reserve, in conjunction with the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency (OCC), plan to survey twenty large bank holding companies (BHCs) as part of a worldwide effort by the Basel Committee on Banking Supervision (the Committee). The Committee plans to survey leading financial institutions from the thirteen countries participating on the Committee as well as many other countries in order to gauge the likely effects of proposed new capital standards for internationally active banking organizations.

The Committee is developing new regulatory capital standards for internationally active banks (the New Basel Capital Accord, or “Accord”) to replace the current standard that has been in place since 1988. The proposed new Accord would be more complex than the original 1988 Accord in order to address the advances and innovations in financial instruments and risk measurement practices that have occurred during the past decade. In designing new capital requirements, the Committee is seeking a standard that provides adequate safety and soundness to world financial markets and that is also far more sensitive to different levels of economic risk than is available with the current Accord. To do this, Committee members believe they must rely more heavily than before on an institution's internal risk measurement systems and its own quantitative assessment of risk, particularly for the largest, most complex, and highly sophisticated banking organizations. For others, less complex capital standards could suffice.

The Committee has structured a proposed standard that entails two different approaches: a simple standard much like the current Accord and a more complex standard that relies on internal risk measurement systems of banks. The latter, in turn, has two variations, a “foundation” and an “advanced” approach. To ensure that each standard would perform sufficiently well, participants to the survey would be asked to calculate their capital requirements under the current rules and also under each of the proposed alternatives.
