National Agricultural Statistics Service (NASS)

Title: Local Food Marketing Practices Survey.

OMB Control Number: 0535–0259.

Summary of Collection: The information to be gathered in the Local Food Marketing Practices Survey (LFMPS) is vital to the USDA's and the public's understanding of the local foods sector, which in turn informs policymaking and program implementation. Section 10016(a)(1)(A) of the 2014 Farm Bill (Pub. L. 113–79) directs USDA to collect data on “the production and marketing of locally or regionally produced agricultural food products,” while Section 10016(b)(2) requires the Department to “conduct surveys and analysis and publish reports relating to the production, handling, distribution, retail sales, and trend studies . . . of or on locally or regionally produced agricultural food products.” This survey fulfills those requirements. Federal funding to the local foods sector has increased under the 2002 Farm Bill (Pub. L. 107–171), the 2008 Farm Bill (Pub. L. 110–246), the 2014 Farm Bill (Pub. L. 113–79), and the 2018 Farm Bill (Pub. L. 115–334). The LFMPS is a follow-on to the Census of Agriculture that is conducted every five years and was last completed for the 2020 calendar year (2017 Census of Agriculture). There are no significant changes to the methodology or procedures from what was conducted in 2021 for the 2020 calendar year (2017 Census of Agriculture).

Need and Use of the Information: The Local Food Marketing Practices Survey (LFMPS) is valuable because local farms have different business models than conventional farms, and the LFMPS is able to discern important data that are otherwise unavailable from pre-existing farmer surveys. This includes details on different types of market channels used, information about on-farm value-added processing, and outreach and advertising directly to community members and shoppers. Food and agriculture economists and other researchers in university, government, and nonprofit sectors analyze and rely on the data in this survey to understand local food marketing practices, make programmatic decisions, and support farms and related food production, aggregation, and distribution businesses.

Because the survey gathers data on production, risk management, and marketing practices, it will be used by a number of USDA agencies and federal policymakers to inform their policies and programs. Just some of the USDA agencies that will benefit from this data are Farm Service Agency (FSA), Risk Management Agency (RMA), Rural Development (RD), Agricultural Marketing Service (AMS), and Food and Nutrition Service (FNS). Farms in all 50 states will be asked to provide these data. Statistics from this survey will be used by state agencies to better understand, support, and promote their local food markets, as well as by researchers studying local foods.

Lottery and Gambling

In accordance with section 4009 of the Agricultural Act of 2014, households in which members receive substantial lottery and gambling winnings are ineligible for SNAP until they meet allowable financial resources and income eligibility requirements. Substantial winnings are defined as winnings that are equal to or greater than the resource limit for elderly or disabled households as defined in 7 CFR 273.8(b). States are also required to work cooperatively with entities responsible for gaming in their State to identify individuals or households with substantial winnings. SNAP individuals or households must report substantial winnings to State SNAP agencies.
