- Were survivors of human trafficking consulted in the development of the proposal concept and is survivor input outlined in the description of proposal implementation?

Originality

- Does the proposal clearly describe the breadth of impact?
- Does the submission clearly outline how the proposal will be measured?
- Will the proposal result in measurable improvements?

Practicality

- Does the proposal clearly identify anticipated beneficiaries of the proposal?
- Does the proposal clearly outline anticipated resources and all costs to be incurred by executing the concept?
- Can the proposal be implemented in a way that requires a finite amount of resources (specifically, the submission has fixed costs, low or no marginal costs, and a clear path to implementation and scale beyond an initial investment)?

Applicability

- Is the proposal national or can it be scaled nationally?

Award

Up to three winning entries are expected to be announced. The first-place winner will receive up to a $50,000 cash prize. A plaque with the first-place winner(s) name and the date of the award will be on display at the U.S. Department of Transportation, and a display copy of the plaque(s) will be sent to the first-place award winner. Two additional plaques will be awarded to recognize the two runners up. At the Department's discretion, DOT may pay for invitational travel expenses to Washington, DC, for up to two individuals or representatives of the first-place winner and runners up, should selectees be invited to present their proposal(s) for DOT officials.
