

Our geographic region of intended operation and trade will be our home port of Valdez, Alaska and Prince William Sound. Our primary focus will be cruising, whale watching, kayak tours, and hunting party transports and/or overnight accommodations."

(4) Date and Place of construction and (if applicable) rebuilding. Date of construction: 1979. Place of construction: Taiwan by ROCS Marine, Koehsiung.

(5) A statement on the impact this waiver will have on other commercial passenger vessel operators. According to the applicant: "This will have virtually no impact on other vessels operating in and around Valdez as they are commercial fishing vessels and sport fishing charters. By the very nature of "WanderLust's" construction, we couldn't possibly jeopardize either of these industries. The distance to good fishing grounds prevents us from entering into competition with the local sport fishing charters. It is 90 miles to the Gulf of Alaska. It takes them 3 hours to get there and it takes us over 8. We would not draw the same level of interest as their clientele for the purpose of sport fishing."

(6) A statement on the impact this waiver will have on U.S. shipyards. According to the applicant: "This will have absolutely no negative impact on U.S. shipyards. Once granted coastwise privileges, U.S. shipyards will benefit from repair work.

Additionally, to build a 41 foot vessel for the purposes we request would be too expensive in relation to return on investment. Only an existing, older and less expensive vessel can be justified in this type of endeavor."
