

producer of the subject merchandise. Petitioners also stated that the Department selected India as the preferred surrogate in the 1994–95 antidumping investigation of honey from China. See Notice of Preliminary Determination of Sales at Less Than Fair Value: Honey from the People's Republic of China, 60 FR 14725, 14729 (March 20, 1995) (“Honey from China”). Based on the information provided by petitioners and Department practice, we believe that petitioners’ use of India as a surrogate country is appropriate for purposes of initiation of this investigation.

In accordance with section 773(c)(4) of the Act, petitioners valued factors of production, where possible, on reasonably available, public surrogate country data. For the normal value calculation, petitioners obtained surrogate value information on the cost of producing natural honey in India, including direct costs (i.e., raw honey), indirect costs (i.e., factory overhead and SG&A), and profit. Raw honey was valued using Indian domestic prices as reported in the Mahabaleshwar Honey Producers Cooperative Society Ltd. (“MHPC”) 1998–99 Annual Report. The number of labor hours was derived from the Chinese producer’s February 28, 1995 questionnaire response in Honey from China, and labor was valued using the Department’s regression-based wage rate in accordance with 19 CFR 351.408(c)(3). Factory overhead, SG&A, and profit were valued using financial data reported in MHPC’s 1998–99 Annual Report. Additional amounts for export packing were based on an offer for sale from an Indian manufacturer of steel drums and on the consumption rate for packing labor as reported by the Chinese producers in Honey from China. As necessary, petitioners inflated non-contemporaneous surrogate values to the period of investigation using IMF International Financial Statistics. Petitioners converted the Indian Rupee prices to U.S. dollars using the exchange rates published in the Federal Reserve Statistical Release H.10 for the period April 2000 through August 2000. Based on the information provided by petitioners, we believe that their surrogate values represent information reasonably available to petitioners and are acceptable for purposes of initiation of this investigation.

Based on comparisons of EP to NV, the calculated dumping margins for natural honey from China range from 169.40 to 183.80 percent.

Allegations and Evidence of Material Injury and Causation

The petition alleges that the U.S. industry producing the domestic like product is being materially injured, and is threatened with material injury, by reason of the individual and cumulated imports of the subject merchandise sold at less than NV. Petitioners explained that the industry’s injured condition is evident in the declining trends in (1) U.S. market share, (2) average unit sales values, (3) share of domestic consumption, (4) operating income, (5) output, and (6) sales.

The allegations of injury and causation are supported by relevant evidence including U.S. Customs import data, lost sales, and pricing information. The Department assessed the allegations and supporting evidence regarding material injury and causation and determined that these allegations are supported by accurate and adequate evidence and meet the statutory requirements for initiation (see Attachments to Initiation Checklist, Re: Material Injury, October 26, 2000).

Initiation of Antidumping Investigations

Based upon our examination of the petition, our discussions on October 12, 2000, with the author of the foreign market research report supporting the petition, measures to confirm the information contained in this report (see Memorandum to the File; Re: Foreign Market Research, dated October 26, 2000), and all other information on the record regarding industry support, we have found that the petition meets the requirements of section 732 of the Act. Therefore, we are initiating antidumping duty investigations to determine whether imports of honey from Argentina and China, are being, or are likely to be, sold in the United States at less than fair value. Unless this deadline is extended, we will make our preliminary determinations no later than 140 days after the date of this initiation.

Distribution of Copies of the Petitions

In accordance with section 732(b)(3)(A) of the Act, a copy of the public version of each petition has been provided to the representatives of the governments of Argentina and China. We will attempt to provide a copy of the public version of each petition to each exporter named in the petition, as appropriate.

International Trade Commission Notification

We have notified the ITC of our initiations, as required by section 732(d) of the Act.

Preliminary Determinations by the ITC

The ITC will determine, by no later than November 20, 2000, whether there is a reasonable indication that imports of honey from Argentina and China are causing material injury, or threatening to cause material injury, to a U.S. industry. A negative ITC determination for any country will result in the investigation being terminated with respect to that country; otherwise, these investigations will proceed according to statutory and regulatory time limits.

This notice is published pursuant to section 777(i) of the Act.

Dated: October 26, 2000.

Troy H. Cribb,

Acting Assistant Secretary for Import Administration.
