In the Matter of Zhan Gao, 12731 Mill Heights, Herndon, VA 20171; Respondent: and Technology Business Services, 12731

Mill Heights, Herndon, VA 20171; University Laboratories, 12731 Mill Heights, Herndon, VA 20171; Allways, Inc., 12731 Mill Heights, Herndon, VA 20171; Donghua Xue, 12731 Mill Heights, Herndon, VA 20171; Related Persons

Order Denying Export Privileges

A. Denial of Export Privileges of Zhan Gao

On March 5, 2004, in the U.S. District Court in the Eastern District of Virginia, Zhan Gao (“Gao”) was convicted of two felonies, including one violation of the International Emergency Economic Powers Act (50 U.S.C. 1701–1706 (2000)) (“IEEPA”) and one violation of the Internal Revenue Code (26 U.S.C. 7206 (2000)). As to the IEEPA count, Gao was found guilty of knowingly and willfully having exported and caused to be exported from the United States to the People's Republic of China, 80 microprocessors, which were Commerce Control List items, without obtaining the required license from the Department of Commerce. These items were controlled for national security reasons for export to China and valued at approximately $500,000. Gao was sentenced to seven months in prison.

Section 11(h) of the Export Administration Act of 1979, as amended (currently codified at 50 U.S.C. app. §§ 2491–2420 (2000)) (“Act”)¹ and

¹ From August 21, 1994 through November 12, 2000, the Act was in lapse. During that period, the President, through Executive Order 12924, which

Section 766.25 of the Export Administration Regulations² (“Regulations”) provide, in pertinent part, that “[t]he Director of Exporter Services, in consultation with the Director of the Office of Export Enforcement, may deny export privileges of any person who has been convicted of a violation of * * * IEEPA,” for a period not to exceed 10 years from the date of conviction. 15 CFR 766.25(a) and (d). In addition, Section 750.8 of the Regulations states that BIS's Office of Exporter Services may revoke any BIS licenses previously issued in which the person had an interest in at the time of her conviction.

I have received notice of Gao's conviction for violating the IEEPA, and have provided notice and an opportunity for Gao to make a written submission to the Bureau of Industry and Security as provided in Section 766.25 of the Regulations. Having had been extended by successive Presidential Notices, the last of which was August 3, 2000 (3 CFR, 2000 Comp. 397 (2001)), continued the Regulations in effect under the International Emergency Economic Powers Act (50 U.S.C. 1701–1706 (2000)) (“IEEPA”). On November 13, 2000, the Act was reauthorized and it remained in effect through August 20, 2001. Since August 21, 2001, the Act has been in lapse and the President, through Executive Order 13222 of August 17, 2001 (3 CFR, 2001 Comp. 783 (2002)), as extended by the Notice of August 2, 2005 (70 FR 45273, August 5, 2005), has continued the Regulations in effect under the IEEPA.

received no submission from Gao, I, following consultations with the Export Enforcement, including the Director, Office of Export Enforcement, have decided to deny Gao's export privileges under the Regulations for a period of 10 years from the date of Gao's conviction.

B. Denial of Export Privileges of Related Persons

In addition, pursuant to Sections 766.25(h) and 766.23 of the Regulations, the Director, Office of Exporter Services, in consultation with the Director, Office of Export Enforcement, may take action to name persons related to the Respondent by ownership, control, position of responsibility, affiliation, or other connection in the conduct of trade or business in order to prevent evasion of the Order. On March 18, 2005, I gave notice to Technology Business Services, University Laboratories, Allways, Inc. and Donghua Xue, Gao's husband, notifying them that their export privileges under the Regulations could be denied for up to 10 years as BIS believed these entities were related to Gao and including them in the Gao Order was necessary to prevent evasion. The basis for considering the addition of these entities was the fact that Gao had used these entities to conduct the illegal business that was subject of the criminal conviction and all are operated out of her home in Virginia.

Donghua Xue responded to the notification and did not raise any objections to naming the above referenced related persons. I have therefore decided to name Technology Business Services, University Laboratories, Allways, Inc. and Donghua Xue as related persons to Zhan Gao, thereby denying their export privileges as well.

I have also decided to revoke all licenses issued pursuant to the Act or Regulations in which Gao and Technology Business Services, University Laboratories, Allways, Inc. and Donghua Xue had an interest at the time of Gao's conviction. The 10-year denial period ends on March 5, 2014.

Accordingly, it is hereby
