Abstract of Information Available

A total of five cultural items have been requested for repatriation. The five sacred objects are three lots of ceramic material and two lots of lithic material are ceramic sherds and lithic flakes. Site LA833 is part of a large Pueblo I-II (A.D. 850–1150) community complex with scattered house units surrounding a great kiva, located within Santa Fe County on Pueblo of Pojoaque land. Archaeological investigations in 1953 and 1959 concluded, and material culture indicates, continuous cultural occupation. Based on material culture, continuity of occupation, and oral history presented by representatives of the Pueblo of Pojoaque, site LA 833 is affiliated with the present-day Pueblo of Pojoaque. Pojoaque cultural members have indicated in consultations that they hold all items used, made, or produced by their ancestors as sacred objects. There are no known hazardous substances used to treat any of these objects.

A total of 190 cultural items have been requested for repatriation. The 190 sacred objects are 14 lots of ground stone, 74 lots of lithics, 29 lots of ceramic/sherds, one lot of historic objects, three lots of unworked stone, 10 lots ceramic/vessels, 20 lots of ornamentals, eight lots of pipes, one lot of mineral, one lot of botanical, two lots of fauna, two lots of cloud blowers, three lots of ceramic objects, seven lots of organic, five lots of worked ceramic/sherds, six lots of worked stone, one lot of worked shell, one lot of unworked shell, one lot of temper, and one lot of medicine stone. The objects of cultural patrimony are represented by all these artifact types listed and include lithic flakes and tools, pottery sherds and partial vessels, manos and metate fragments, animal bone, both worked and unmodified, beads and ornamental objects, botanical materials and soil or pollen, and historic objects. Site LA835 is a Pueblo I-II (A.D. 850–1150) site that consists of a community complex with scattered house units and a great kiva located within Santa Fe County on the Pueblo of Pojoaque land. Excavations at LA 835 by a New Mexico State Highway and Transportation Department project exposed three room blocks, 10 kivas, and a great kiva. Exploratory and test trenches were dug around the three excavated units to determine the full extent of the site and to collect archaeological material to date the site. The material culture collected indicates continuous cultural occupation. Based on material culture, continuity of occupation, and oral history presented by representatives of the Pueblo of Pojoaque, site LA 835 is affiliated with the present-day Pueblo of Pojoaque. Pojoaque cultural members have indicated in consultation that they hold all items used, made, or produced by their ancestors as sacred objects. There are no known hazardous substances used to treat any of these objects.

Determinations

The Bureau of Indian Affairs has determined that:

- The 195 sacred objects described in this notice are specific objects needed by a traditional Native American religious leader for present-day adherents to practice traditional Native American religion, and have ongoing historical, traditional, or cultural importance central to the Native American group, including any constituent sub-group (such as a band, clan, lineage, ceremonial society, or other subdivision).
- There is a connection between the cultural items described in this notice and the Pueblo of Pojoaque, New Mexico.
