The general area of EssEs's planned activity is to develop detailed cell level data on current or near market technology across a meaningfully diverse number of manufacturers to allow a relative comparison between available technologies. The program will provide performance, life, abuse and consistency of manufacturing test data for member-selected systems in a private, independent third party laboratory format (nongovernmental). This will provide members with data required to assess the pertinent performance characteristics of various battery topologies, chemistries and manufacturers to assist in the selection of cells for a vehicular energy storage system. Additionally, the level of data and the detail in which it is provided will be sufficient to aid in the development of models, pack integration work and thermal management strategy development.

Weather Shield Manufacturing, Inc. Corporate Office, Medford, WI; Notice of Negative Determination on Remand

On August 3, 2011, the United States Court of International Trade (USCIT) granted the Department of Labor's request for voluntary remand to conduct further investigation and to submit a new administrative record in Former Employees of Weather Shield Manufacturing, Inc. v. United States Secretary of Labor (Court No. 10-00299) that contains information obtained during both the previous investigations and the latest investigation of this matter.

On July 16, 2010, the Department of Labor (Department) issued a Negative Determination regarding eligibility to apply for Trade Adjustment Assistance (TAA) applicable to workers and former workers of Weather Shield

Manufacturing, Inc., Corporate Office, Medford, Wisconsin (subject facility). AR 598. Workers at the subject facility (subject worker group) supply administrative support services related to the production of doors and windows which takes place at various domestic locations of Weather Shield Manufacturing, Inc. (subject firm). The Department's notice of determination was published in the Federal Register on August 2, 2010 (75 FR 45163). AR 611.

Background—Petition TA-W-64,725

On December 17, 2008, workers filed a petition for TAA and Alternative Trade Adjustment Assistance (ATAA) on behalf of workers and former workers of Weather Shield Manufacturing, Inc., Corporate Office, Medford, Wisconsin (petition TA-W-64,725—hereafter referred to as Weather Shield I). AR 1, 4, 6.

The Department determined in the initial and reconsideration investigations in Weather Shield I that the subject firm did not shift production to a foreign country and that imports of articles like or directly competitive with those produced by the subject firm did not contribute importantly to worker separations at the subject facility. AR

17, 27, 69, 75. A sample survey of the subject firm's declining customers conducted both in the initial and administrative reconsideration investigations revealed negligible imports of products like or directly competitive with those produced by workers at the subject firm. AR 42, 44, 45, 51, 54, 64, 69, 104, 105.

On January 19, 2010, Plaintiffs filed a complaint with the USCIT in which they alleged that their separations were attributable to increased customer imports. In order to conduct a further investigation to address Plaintiff allegations, the Department requested a voluntary remand. During that remand investigation, the Department obtained a list of all the customers of the subject firm (AR 145) and conducted a larger sample customer survey to determine whether or not there were increased customer imports during the relevant time period (calendar years 2007 and 2008) of articles like or directly competitive with doors and/or windows. AR 279-530. The survey revealed that customer imports had increased during the relevant time period. AR 1345.

Accordingly, the Department issued a Revised Determination on Remand on August 9, 2010, applicable to workers at
