

A offering will be more likely to have a developed business plan upon which investors can rely, was able to successfully fund its initial phase of operations, and will be better prepared to satisfy public company requirements, including reporting and corporate governance requirements.

The Exchange believes that this proposal does not result in unfair discrimination between companies because companies relying on Regulation A are subject to limited accounting and disclosure requirements, which exposes investors, many of which may be non-accredited, to increased risk. The Exchange believes that this proposal will help lower the risk to such investors by helping to assure that a company was able to fund its initial phase of operations, has an established business plan and a history of operations upon which investors can rely and is more likely to be ready for the rigors of being a public company. For the foregoing reasons, the Exchange believes it is not unfair to impose the requirement for a minimum operating history of at least two years only on companies relying on Regulation A and not on companies conducting a traditional initial public offering on Form S-1.

B. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement on Burden on Competition

The Exchange does not believe that the proposed rule change will impose any burden on competition not necessary or appropriate in furtherance of the purposes of the Exchange Act. All companies seeking to list on the Exchange in connection with an offering under Regulation A would be affected in the same manner by this change. While this is an additional requirement that would not apply to a company that does not rely upon Regulation A, Nasdaq believes that to the extent this distinction places a burden on competition between companies, such burden is necessary and appropriate to enhance investor protection from companies with limited accounting and disclosure requirements in furtherance of the investor protection purposes of the Exchange Act. Moreover, Nasdaq also notes that companies have a choice as to whether or not to rely upon Regulation A and, therefore, can control whether they are subject to the proposed requirement.

C. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement on Comments on the Proposed Rule Change Received From Members, Participants, or Others

On October 5, 2018, Nasdaq launched a formal comment solicitation on proposals to adopt additional initial listing criteria for companies applying to list on the Exchange in connection with an offering under Regulation A ("2018 Solicitation"), a copy of which is attached hereto as Exhibit 2.¹⁹ No comments were received in response to the comment solicitation.

III. Date of Effectiveness of the Proposed Rule Change and Timing for Commission Action

Within 45 days of the date of publication of this notice in the Federal Register or within such longer period up to 90 days (i) as the Commission may designate if it finds such longer period to be appropriate and publishes its reasons for so finding or (ii) as to which the Exchange consents, the Commission shall: (a) by order approve or disapprove such proposed rule change, or (b) institute proceedings to determine whether the proposed rule change should be disapproved.
