

ensure its consistency with the regulatory philosophy and principles set forth in Executive Order 12866. This rulemaking updating the provisions of 22 CFR part 34 is part of the Department of State's retrospective review, mandated by EO 13563. The benefit of the rulemaking is that in certain instances email notification of debt provides a more effective and efficient delivery mechanism than first class mail. This is particularly the case for the Department's global and mobile workforce. Postage costs are also eliminated by leveraging the Department's messaging system in lieu of first class mail delivery.

Executive Order 12988: The Department has reviewed this regulation in light of sections 3(a) and 3(b)(2) of Executive Order 12988, Civil Justice Reform, to eliminate ambiguity, minimize litigation, establish clear legal standards, and reduce burden.

Executive Orders 13132 and 12372: This regulation will not have substantial direct effects on the States, the relationship between the National Government and the States, or on the distribution of power and responsibilities among the various levels of government. Therefore, the Department determines that this rule does not have sufficient federalism implications to require consultations or warrant the preparation of a federalism summary impact statement. The regulations implementing Executive Order 12372 regarding intergovernmental consultation on federal programs and activities do not apply to this regulation.

Executive Order 13175: The Department has determined that this rulemaking will not have tribal implications, will not impose substantial direct compliance costs on Indian tribal governments, and will not pre-empt tribal law. Accordingly, the requirements of Executive Order 13175 do not apply to this rulemaking.

Paperwork Reduction Act: This rule does not impose any new or revised reporting or recordkeeping requirements subject to the Paperwork Reduction Act, 44 U.S.C. chapter 35.
