

improvement and program management purposes and is not intended for release outside of the agency;

- Information gathered will not be used for the purpose of substantially informing influential policy decisions; and

- Information gathered will yield qualitative information; the collections will not be designed or expected to yield statistically reliable results or used as though the results are generalizable to the population of study.

Feedback collected under this generic clearance provides useful information, but it does not yield data that can be generalized to the overall population. This type of generic clearance for qualitative information will not be used for quantitative information collections that are designed to yield reliably actionable results, such as monitoring trends over time or documenting program performance. Such data usage require more rigorous designs that address: the target population to which generalizations will be made, the sampling frame, the sample design (including stratification and clustering), the precision requirements or power calculations that justify the proposed sample size, the expected response rate, methods for assessing potential non-response bias, the protocols for data collection, and any testing procedures that were or will be undertaken prior to fielding the study. Depending on the degree of influence the results are likely to have, such collections may still be eligible for submission for other generic mechanisms that are designed to yield quantitative results. As a general matter, information collections do not result in any new system of records containing privacy information and does not ask questions of a sensitive nature, such as sexual behavior and attitudes, religious beliefs, and other matters that are commonly considered private.

A variety of instruments and platforms are used to collect information from respondents. This includes but is not limited to customer feedback surveys, comment cards, focus groups, and quick census or surveys obtaining customer feedback on a variety of Food and Nutrition Service (FNS) programs or portions thereof including the Child Nutrition (CN) program, the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP), Food Distribution Programs, nutrition policy and promotion, and the Special Supplemental Nutrition Program for Women, Infants and Children and any associated challenges in implementing programs or subsets of programs. The annual burden hours requested (670,000) are based on the number of collections we could conduct over the requested period for this clearance.
