RIN 0648-BJ63

Fisheries Off West Coast States; Delay Implementation of West Coast Groundfish Electronic Monitoring Program

AGENCY: National Marine Fisheries Service (NMFS), National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA), Commerce.

ACTION: Proposed rule; request for comments.

SUMMARY: This proposed rule would revise regulations to delay implementation of the Electronic Monitoring (EM) Program for the West Coast Groundfish Trawl Rationalization Program. This action would delay implementation of the EM Program to January 1, 2022. NMFS is proposing this change to provide additional time for industry and prospective service providers to prepare for implementation, as it is expected to strengthen Council and industry support for the EM program and may increase participation when it is implemented in 2022.

DATES: Comments on this proposed rule must be received no later than September 28, 2020.

ADDRESSES: You may submit comments on this document, identified by NOAA-NMFS-2020-0116.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Background

At the recommendation of the Pacific Coast Fishery Management Council (Council), NMFS published a final rule on June 28, 2019 (84 FR 31146) that authorized the use of EM in place of human observers to meet requirements for 100-percent monitoring at sea for catcher vessels in the groundfish trawl catch share fishery (Trawl Rationalization Program). EM video systems are used to record catch and discards by the vessel crew while at sea. Vessel operators are responsible for recording catch and discards in a logbook, which is then used to debit individual fishing quota (IFQ) accounts and cooperative allocations. After an EM vessel completes a fishing trip, the vessel operator submits the video data to their third party EM service provider for analysis to be used to audit the vessel operator's self-reported discard logbooks. The June 2019 final rule established requirements for vessel owners and operators and EM service providers participating in the EM program, and for first receivers receiving catch from EM trips. The EM program is set to begin January 1, 2021, and NMFS has been working on implementation of the program in preparation for the start date.

At its April and June 2020 meetings, the Council recommended that NMFS delay implementation of the EM program to January 1, 2022, to provide more time to prepare. Specifically, the Council wants to provide more time for industry and the Pacific States Marine Fisheries Commission (PSMFC) to develop a model for industry to fund PSMFC for review of video from their fishing trips. PSMFC has been reviewing video data from the experimental EM Exempted Fishing Permit (EFP) program, funded by NMFS, since 2015. Members of the fishing industry and the Council would like PSMFC to continue participating as a NMFS-certified, third party service provider under the EM regulatory program. They believe that PSMFC can provide video review services at lower cost than private sector service provider companies. PSMFC is eligible to apply for an EM provider permit under the regulations, but remains concerned that accepting funds directly from industry would undermine the apparent impartiality of its role in data collection programs on the west coast. The Council has requested that NMFS delay implementation of the regulatory program to provide more time for the industry and PSMFC to address these concerns before PSMFC applies to be a service provider in 2022. The Council believes that a delay is necessary to increase industry buy-in and for success of the EM program at reducing monitoring costs for the fishery.

At its April 2020 meeting, the Council initiated a regulatory amendment to consider changes to the EM program under Section 6.2 of the Pacific Coast Groundfish Fishery Management Plan, which allows the Council to recommend management measures in two meetings.
