

and stream-flow depletion, is likely the principal cause of these species' decline in range and abundance. Genetic factors associated with increasingly small and isolated populations and the introduction of alien species may present additional obstacles to their recovery.

The objective of this recovery plan is to provide a framework for the recovery of these seven species so that protection under the Act is no longer necessary. As recovery criteria are met, the status of the seven species will be reviewed and they will be considered for reclassification to threatened status or for removal from the Federal List of Endangered and Threatened Wildlife and Plants (50 CFR part 17).

Authority: The authority for this action is section 4(f) of the Endangered Species Act, 16 U.S.C. 1533 (f).

Dated: September 5, 2003.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR

National Park Service

Concessions Contracts and Permits

AGENCY: National Park Service, Interior.

ACTION: Public notice.

SUMMARY: Pursuant to 36 CFR 51.23, public notice is hereby given that the National Park Service proposes to extend the following expiring concession contract for a period of 3 years.

EFFECTIVE DATE: April 1, 2004.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The listed concession authorization will expire by its terms on March 31, 2004. The National Park Service has determined that the proposed extension is necessary in order to avoid interruption of visitor services and has taken all reasonable and appropriate steps to consider alternatives to avoid such interruption. This extension will allow the National Park Service to complete and issue a prospectus leading to the competitive selection of a concessioner for a new long-term concession contract covering this operation.

INTERNATIONAL TRADE COMMISSION

Sanction for Dissemination of "ITC Questionnaire Tip Sheet"

AGENCY: U.S. International Trade Commission.

ACTION: Sanction for dissemination of "ITC Questionnaire Tip Sheet".

SUMMARY: Notice is hereby given of the sanction imposed by the Commission for the dissemination of a document entitled "ITC Questionnaire Tip Sheet" by Sanford B. Ring, Esq. of the law firm of Dykema Gossett to a client and a non-client in Steel Consuming Industries: Competitive Conditions With Regard to Steel Safeguard Measures, Inv. No. 332-452. The Commission found that there was good cause to sanction Ring, pursuant to 19 CFR 201.15(a), because the tip sheet went beyond the boundaries of appropriate guidance for clients and non-clients regarding their responses to Commission questionnaires. The Commission believes it is important to maintain the integrity of its investigations and to ensure that questionnaire responses in a fact-finding Commission investigation will be accurate and not inappropriately influenced by counsel seeking to support his or her view of the facts in an investigation.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Carol McCue Verratti, Esq., Office of the General Counsel, U.S. International Trade Commission, 500 E Street, SW, Washington, DC 20436, telephone 202-205-3088. Hearing impaired individuals are advised that information on this matter can be obtained by contacting the Commission's TDD terminal at 202-205-1810. General information concerning the Commission can also be obtained by accessing its Internet server (<http://www.usitc.gov>).

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: In connection with the Steel Consuming Industries investigation, Mr. Ring drafted and transmitted an "ITC Questionnaire Tip Sheet" to his client, the Motor and Equipment Manufacturers Association ("MEMA"). Ring also transmitted the tip sheet to a non-client, the National Electrical Manufacturers Association ("NEMA"). Both MEMA and NEMA acknowledge that they electronically transmitted the tip sheet to a group of firms and associations. The tip sheet is a document that aggressively and inappropriately coaches questionnaire respondents on how to complete the questionnaires in the Steel Consuming Industries investigation. We note at the outset that some information the Commission considered in this matter cannot be discussed as it has been given confidential treatment, as requested by Mr. Ring.

The Commission has found the tip sheet contains inappropriate coaching of questionnaire respondents in fact-finding investigations, such as a section 332 investigation, because it is worded in a manner that encourages misleading responses to the questionnaires. The first sentence of the tip sheet states that "the overriding goal is to tell a compelling story." The second paragraph states that "[w]e want to demonstrate that the adverse impact of the tariffs on steel users has been great, and that it will be even worse going forward. It is important to bear this point in mind as you answer the questions—your projections for the future should be even more bleak than what has happened to date." (Emphasis in the original). The tip sheet encourages the respondent to use estimates "if information is not readily available from your records in exactly the form requested" and to resolve estimates "in favor of a more compelling story." In addition, regarding projections in the future, the tip sheet encourages the respondent to be "creative and "extrapolative." There is no statement in the tip sheet that reminds the respondents that their responses must be true and accurate other than to suggest that they read the ITC instruction booklets prior to completing the questionnaires.

The Commission finds the tip sheet to be an entirely inappropriate form of coaching questionnaire respondents in a fact-finding section 332 investigation.

Sanford B. Ring is reprimanded for drafting the tip sheet and disseminating it to a client and non-client in the Steel Consuming Industries investigation.

The authority for this action is conferred by §201.15(a) of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (19 CFR 201.15(a)).

Issued: September 24, 2003.

By order of the Commission.

Marilyn R. Abbott,
Secretary.
