I. Abstract

The Defense Production Act Amendments of 1992, Section 123 (Pub. L. 102558), which amended Section 309 or the Defense Production Act of 1950, requires United States firms to furnish information for a variety of defense industrial base studies and reports undertaken by the Bureau of Industry and Security (BIS) within the U.S. Department of Commerce. The information to be collected regarding foreign defense procurement practices will be used by the Bureau of Industry and Security to assess the defense procurement policies of allied nations in an effort to ensure a competitive environment for U.S. defense firms in the global defense market. This assessment is within the scope of BIS's core functions to develop, promote, and implement policies that ensure a strong technologically superior U.S. defense industrial base. To ensure that U.S. industry has the capacity to meet current and future national security, economic security, and homeland security requirements, BIS conducts analyses of defense sectors important to the national defense, promotes U.S. defense exports, and monitors U.S. defense industry access to foreign markets.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

I. Abstract

Congress, when it enacted legislation to implement the Nairobi Protocol to the Florence Agreement, included a provision for the Departments of Commerce and Homeland Security to collect information on the import of articles for the handicapped. Form ITA-362P, Information on Articles for Physically or Mentally Handicapped Persons Imported Free of Duty, is the vehicle by which statistical information is obtained to assess whether the duty-free treatment of articles for the handicapped has had a significant adverse impact on a domestic industry (or portion thereof) manufacturing or producing a like or directly competitive article. Without the collection of data, it would be almost impossible for a sound determination to be made and for the President to appropriately redress the situation.

II. Method of Collection

The Department of Commerce and U.S. Customs and Border Protection ("CBP") have copies of Form ITA-362P and distribute the form to importers and brokers upon request. Also, Form ITA-362P may be printed from the Statutory Import Programs Staff portion of the Department of Commerce Web site at <http://www.ia.ita.doc.gov/sips/ita362p.html>. The applicant completes the form and then forwards it to the CBP. Upon acceptance by CBP as a valid application, the application is transmitted to Commerce for processing.
