

three airports. In order to be approved, an individual is required to successfully complete a security threat assessment. As part of this threat assessment, an individual (pilot or airport security coordinator) is required to undergo a criminal history records check and a check of Government terrorist watch lists and other databases to determine whether the individual poses, or is suspected of posing, a threat to transportation or national security. An individual will not receive TSA's approval under this analysis if TSA determines or suspects the individual of being a threat to national or transportation security. Prospective pilots must be fingerprinted at the Ronald Reagan Washington National Airport's (DCA) badging office with the airport security coordinator, as well as provide the following information to TSA as part of the application process: Full name, Social Security number, Airmen Certificate number, date of birth, home address, home and work phone numbers, e-mail address, emergency contact number, aircraft make and model, and FAA registration number. The current estimated annual reporting burden is 8,299 hours.

Issued in Arlington, Virginia, on August 26, 2008.
