Overview of This Information Collection

1. Type of Information Collection: New survey.
2. The Title of the Form/Collection: “National Study of Interpersonal Violence Experienced by Young Adults.”
3. The agency form number, if any, and the applicable component of the Department sponsoring the collection: The applicable component within the U.S. Department of Justice is the National Institute of Justice.

4. Affected public who will be asked or required to respond, as well as a brief abstract: In the fiscal year (FY) 2023, the National Institute of Justice (NIJ) awarded Westat, a professional research services organization, along with their partners at New York University and the University of Cincinnati, to implement the “National Study of Interpersonal Violence Experienced by Young Adults” pilot (Jan. 1, 2024–December 31, 2025), which will inform the implementation of the full multi-year project expected to begin in FY2026.

The “National Study of Interpersonal Violence Experienced by Young Adults,” also known as the Long IVY study, is a critically needed, nationally representative, longitudinal panel survey of interpersonal violence among young adults (ages 18–24) who do and do not attend college. It will examine trajectories of risk and protective factors (at the individual, family, and community levels, including exposure to community violence) that predict victimization and perpetration of interpersonal violence and the recovery of those victimized. Interpersonal violence comprises (1) physical and psychological intimate partner violence, (2) nonconsensual sexual contact, and (3) stalking by current and former intimate partners and non-partners. The study design includes recruiting 17,000 young adults with a goal of retaining 10,000 in the final sample after five annual data collection waves (and interim micro assessments) across six years. The first survey will be administered in the fall of the school year after the participant’s high school class graduates, and the final survey will be administered after they turn 23.

At a stage of the lifespan when we are most vulnerable to interpersonal violence, this study will address gaps in knowledge about the experiences of young adults not engaged in post-secondary education and the differences in experiences between groups. The innovative emphasis on identifying risk and protective factors over time will provide new evidence about how best to prevent interpersonal violence, for whom, which subpopulations are most in need of victimization services, and what factors accelerate healing and wellness for those who’ve been harmed.

The Study of Interpersonal Violence among Young Adults Pilot Project (the current study) will recruit a national probability sample of approximately 5,000 young adults with a goal of retaining 150–168 after a one-time data collection in response to the recruitment form. The form will be administered in the spring/summer of the recruitment year, 2025, and respondents must have either graduated high school or are no longer in high school. Respondents must be age 18 in order to be eligible for recruitment.

5. An estimate of the total number of respondents and the amount of time estimated for an average respondent to respond: The pilot study’s estimated range of burden for respondents is expected to be between 8 and 14 minutes for completion. Based on instrument testing results, an average of 12 minutes per respondent is expected to be spent. The following factors were considered when creating the burden estimate: the estimated total number of respondents. NIJ estimates that approximately 168 respondents will fully complete the questionnaire, yielding a modified response rate of 55%.

6. An estimate of the total public burden associated with the pilot data collection: For the pilot study, the estimated public burden associated with this collection is 567 hours, which includes the time it takes each of the expected respondents to open all mailing materials and complete the questionnaire. It is estimated that each of the 168 respondents will take 12 minutes, on average, to complete the questionnaire. See the table below for calculations.

Activity	Number of respondents	Time per response (minutes)	Total burden (hours)	Hourly rate *	Monetized value of respondent time
Initial letter	5,000	2	166.67	$7.25	$1,208.36
Reminder Postcard	5,000	0.5	41.67	7.25	302.11
Second Reminder	4,899	2	163.3	7.25	1,183.93
Final reminder	4,849	2	161.63	7.25	1,171.82
Completed Survey	168	12	33.6	7.25	243.60
Total Burden			566.84		4,109.82

*The federal minimum wage as of December 2024 is $7.25 per the U.S. Department of Labor <https://www.dol.gov/agencies/whd/minimum-wage/state>.

Title of Collection: Grantee Reporting Requirements for the Research Experiences for Undergraduates (REU) Program.

OMB Approval Number: 3145-0224.

Expiration Date: June 30, 2025.

Overview of Information Collection: NSF's Research Experiences for Undergraduates (REU) program funds REU Site grants and REU Supplements to organizations to provide authentic research experiences and related training for postsecondary students in STEM fields.

All NSF Principal Investigators in all programs are required to submit annual and final project reports through the NSF Project Reports System in Research.gov. The REU Program Module is a component of the NSF Project Reports System that is designed to gather basic information about the pool of student applicants and participants in REU Site and REU Supplement projects. The information allows NSF to assess the demand and allocate resources for REU student positions within each discipline, to analyze the types of academic institutions and the educational levels represented by the participants, and to identify the participants for inclusion in periodic program evaluations.

NSF is committed to providing stakeholders with information regarding the expenditure of taxpayer funds on its investments in human capital, including activities such as REU Sites and REU Supplements. If NSF could not collect information about the students who participate in undergraduate research experiences, NSF would have no other means to consistently document the number and diversity of the participants or to identify the participants for inclusion in efforts that gauge the quality of programmatic activities and the long-term effects of the activities on the students. Without the REU Program Module, NSF also would not have information about the competitiveness of the REU opportunities, which informs the management of the program's budget.

Consultation With Other Agencies and the Public

This information collection is specific to a subset of NSF grantees. NSF has not consulted with other agencies but has gathered information from its grantee community through attendance at PI conferences. A request for public comments will be solicited through announcement of data collection in the Federal Register.

Background

All NSF Principal Investigators are required to use the project reporting functionality in Research.gov to report on progress, accomplishments, participants, and activities annually and at the conclusion of their project. Information from annual and final reports provides yearly updates on project inputs, activities, and outcomes for use by NSF program officers in monitoring projects and for agency reporting purposes.

If project participants include undergraduate students supported by a Research Experiences for Undergraduates (REU) Sites grant or by an REU Supplement, then the Principal Investigator is required to complete the REU Program Module in addition to the questions in NSF's standard report template.

Respondents: Individuals (Principal Investigators).

Number of Principal Investigator Respondents: 3,900 annually.

Burden on the Public: 650 total hours.

Dated: January 29, 2025.
